No Decision Yet On Bus Franchise Davie Announces

President Murrin Says Street Car Policies Changed; Private Bills Committee Told Better Service for Southern Oak Bay by Linking Oak Bay and Foul Bay Car Termini; Exclusive Blue Line Franchise Opposed

No decision has yet been arrived at on the Oak Bay Blue Line franchise bill, C. F. Davie, chairman of the private bills committee, this afternoon informed the Legislature after the committee had devoted two morning sessions to public hearings and had held a private meeting to consider the evidence presented.

W. G. Murrin, president of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company Limited, this morning assured the committee that a bus service between the Oak Bay and Foul Bay car termini will be instituted the day the Blue Line ceases service, and that, if the events of the last ten years could be reviewed, service to southern Oak Bay, refused hitherto, would now be accorded without hesitation, despite the certainty of substantial loss in operation, because of the realization of the company's obligation to give adequate transportation service within its territory, irrespective of cost.

At the resumption of proceedings this morning Reeve Hayward of Oak Bay, at the request of A. M. Manson, K.C., Liberal, Omineca, verified printed statements before the committee to the effect that A. T. Goward, vice-president of the B.C. Electric Railway, had made threats of reprisals against the Veterans Company, with possibility of entry into the sightseeing business and certainty of competition on Haultain street, if the Blue Line entered Oak Bay.

Opening the case for the B.C. Electric Railway Company, H. B. Robertson, K.C., said: "The question is not whether the B.C. Electric did or did not do something last year. The question is whether this bill is in the public interest."

"Yesterday, in a somewhat vitriolic address, Mr. Maclean endeavored to arouse your resentment against the B.C. Electric. What the company has done on Haultain Street or elsewhere should have no influence on you in deciding on the public interest," he said, explaining that the legal motion to quash the Oak Bay Council by-laws was only a commonsense procedure, taken to attain time to study the problem created.

MAY CLOSE EXCHANGES

Washington, Feb. 26.—The Senate adopted a resolution to-day calling upon Secretary Hyde of the Agriculture Department to make "such recommendations as he sees fit" to the Senate relative to the prices of cotton and wheat, "even to the extent of temporarily closing said exchanges."

Offered by Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, the resolution was adopted after a round of discussion of the causes of the collapse of prices on the exchanges of cotton and wheat.

Burden Beats Whip In Race To Secure University Reports

Constitutional rights and parliamentary practice were absolutely ignored by ministers of the government in their method of presenting the Daykin report on University Endowment Lands, T. D. Pattullo, leader of the opposition, declared in the Legislature yesterday, in the course of a stinging criticism of the procedure followed.

REFUSED REPORTS
He had been refused months ago copies of the report and the interim report of Colonel Daykin, commissioner employed by the government, yet the report was made available to the friendly press and published in the columns of Vancouver before it had been tabled in the Legislature and before Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, Minister of Education, had finished his speech in the Legislature during which he read extracts from the report.

On top of all that, said Mr. Pattullo, when the report was tabled by the Minister of Lands, Hon. P. P. Borden, that minister rushed across the floor of the House and withdrew the report before H. P. Kergin, Liberal whip, could secure it.

The report was before Mr. Pattullo when he took his seat in the House yesterday.

WHAT TO BELIEVE?
"I told the clerk of the House I did not ask for that report to-day," said Mr. Pattullo. "The clerk said it was not filed yesterday. What are we to believe?" Mr. Pattullo suggested the report was filed yesterday and withdrawn, but newspaper men found that it had been withdrawn and the government relented and refilled it. (Continued on page 19)

TARDIEU IS TRYING TO FORM CABINET

Takes Up Task in France After Ousting of Chautemps Ministry By Chamber

Health Considerations Prevent Poincare From Taking Post of Premier

Canadian Press
Paris, Feb. 26.—With the Chautemps cabinet down in ruins, President Doumergue to-day entrusted the task of forming a new cabinet to Andre Tardieu, who will seek to form a wide Union cabinet with the aid of Raymond Poincare, veteran French statesman.

The President first called in ex-Premier Tardieu this morning and asked him to form a Ministry, but M. Tardieu refused and suggested former Premier Poincare, offering to take a portfolio under him, which would include his returning to the Legislative Assembly, a move which has been making time pending solution of the French Cabinet crisis.

Ex-President Poincare, however, also refused the post, pleading his health would be wrecked if he should take the reins before his strength was restored. He is still convalescent from his recent illness. He advised President Doumergue to insist on M. Tardieu serving as the new Premier.

Later M. Poincare announced having the palace doctor help M. Tardieu form a wide Union Cabinet. Such a union group appears to offer the only possible solution of the present deadlock.

The former Premier, if successful, will return to London to resume the naval negotiations where they were broken off when his Cabinet met a five-day defeat in the Chamber of Deputies on a minor budget issue.

Constitutional rights and parliamentary practice were absolutely ignored by ministers of the government in their method of presenting the Daykin report on University Endowment Lands, T. D. Washington, Feb. 26.—Renewing their attack on the dry laws, opponents of prohibition to-day opened their next to last day of testimony before the House Judiciary committee by the presentation of a statement by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, demanding outright repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment on the ground that it constituted an invasion of the constitution.

REPORTED LOSING STRENGTH IN HIS FIGHT FOR LIFE

former President and former Chief Justice of the United States, as he appeared at Washington shortly before his present illness overtook him.

Washington, Feb. 26.—Former Chief Justice William Howard Taft is gradually growing weaker. His physicians issued this bulletin at noon to-day:
"The former Chief Justice is not so well as yesterday. He is gradually growing weaker. He suffers no pain, but his condition is more serious than at any time."

UNEMPLOYED PARADE IS DISPERSED

Seattle Police Use Fists To Break Up Procession of 500 Persons

Seattle, Feb. 26.—Seattle police used clubs, fists, motorcycles and automobiles to break up a parade of approximately 500 radicals and communists which started in the south end of the downtown district about noon to-day. The marchers were carrying banners reading "Down With Capitalism" and "Work or Wages."

INCIDENT IN CHICAGO
Chicago, Feb. 26.—Chicago police to-day sequestered more than 150 unemployed in a hall to prevent a renewal of last week's march on the City Hall. After some confusion in which certain radicals in the hall were beaten down by the police, Deputy Commissioner Stage decided to let the meeting proceed, all to be arrested later.

NEW BAN ON CAR PARKING NOW FOUGHT

Retail Merchants Say Rule For Downtown Vancouver Is Mistake

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Feb. 26.—Retail merchants will fight the decision of the Vancouver City Council to prohibit parking entirely on the downtown sections of Granville and Hastings Streets between 4:30 p.m. and 6 p.m.

J. W. Kelly, chairman of the retail merchants' bureau of the Board of Trade, has called an extraordinary meeting of retail merchants for 10:30 a.m. on Friday at the Board of Trade rooms to discuss the situation.

The notice sent out by the bureau reads: "In the opinion of the retailers effected, some definite and united action is warranted, especially in view of the refusal of the City Council to accept the recommendations of both the official and unofficial traffic committees, and also that of an overwhelming majority of the merchants."

It is hoped that as many merchants as possible will arrange to attend this meeting and indicate by their presence the serious nature of the situation existing.

WHEAT POOL PLAN APPROVED IN AUSTRALIA

Canadian Press Cable Via Reuters's Melbourne, Australia, Feb. 26.—The Victoria State Government has endorsed the recommendation of the Premier's conference for a compulsory Australian wheat marketing pool. Legislation will be prepared for submission to the State Assembly at an early date. After the conference the pool scheme had been turned back to the State Government for consideration. The Federal Government has promised a guaranteed price of 56 cents a bushel, delivered at country sidings, for one year.

New Drugless Healers Bill Is Expected Soon

Legislation Along Compromise Lines Forecast, Following Demonstration After Private Bills Committee of British Columbia Legislature Threw Out Original Bill; Chiropractors and Others May Get Own Board of Examiners

Arrangements by which drugless healers, chiropractors and Christian Scientists will be able to treat the sick in British Columbia with legal authority will be worked out in the Legislature before it progresses, as the result of an understanding reached to-day.

As the outcome of conferences between drugless healers and the government yesterday evening and further conferences with members of the House to-day, legislation along compromise lines will be introduced by a private member shortly. This, it is learned, will enable drugless healers and practitioners not only to practice, but to conduct their own examinations, and machinery will be created to see that their examinations are properly carried out.

LIMIT USE OF TERM DOCTOR

The new scheme, which will form the most important legislation of its sort introduced in British Columbia in recent times is based on the theory that medical men, chiropractors, drugless healers and Christian Scientists must all be treated separately. To this end it is planned to limit the use of the word doctor to medical men. Chiropractors will be able to practice and have their own board of examiners. Drugless healers will form a third category with their own examinations. And the case of Christian Scientists, and other religious healers will be covered by an amendment to the Medical Act which will provide that any person treating the sick by religion and not pretending medical knowledge is free to follow this work so long as he obeys the contagious diseases and sanitary laws of the province.

SPONSORED BY PRIVATE MEMBERS

These proposals will be whipped into shape before the week-end, it is expected. They are sponsored by private members of the House. If an arrangement satisfactory to the various interests concerned can be worked out, these members believe they will have the support of the government. The big question to be settled is the character of the machinery to be set up to license and examine chiropractors and drugless healers. Medical men, of course, already have such machinery and none is required for religious healers.

Missions Burned By China Bandits

Hankow, Feb. 26.—Bandits were reported to-day to have raided and burned Catholic missions at Tschinghu and Lechingkow, neighboring towns 120 miles up the Han River from here.

The missionaries learned of the bandits' approach and fled to Shao Hupeh. The bandits were said to have looted the missions and then poured oil on the buildings and fired them.

WINDSOR, ONT., POLICE HUNTING MOVIE ROBBER

Windsor, Ont., Feb. 26.—A lone bandit to-day held up Dave Krendal, assistant manager of the Capitol Theatre here, and at the point of a gun forced him to hand over between $1,400 and $1,500.

The bandit, a young, well-dressed man, walked into the theatre unobserved. Krendal was alone in the office at the time.

Santo Domingo Has Overturn

Santo Domingo, Feb. 26.—Insurgents entered this city this morning and took possession of public buildings and the fortress without bloodshed.

WORKER LOSES LIFE

Tacoma, Wash., Feb. 26.—O. Hallstrom was taken from the tunnel cave-in at Lake Cushman shortly before noon to-day, alive and well. The body of Roy Ward, the other entombed man, was taken from the tunnel a few minutes later. Ward's neck was broken, indicating he was killed at the time the tunnel caved in at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday.

MAN HELD IN SHOOTING AT NANAIMO

Archie Hamilton Dies at Island Highway Cabin From Bullet Wound

Peter Smith, Owner of Cabin, Detained By Police as Material Witness

Special To The Times
Nanaimo, Feb. 26.—Peter Smith, an employee of the Quilicum Lumber Company, is held by the Provincial Police here following a shooting affair in his two-room cabin at Whiskey Creek early yesterday morning, in which Archie Hamilton, sixty-year-old driver at the railway tie-camp, met his death.

Pending an inquest which is being arranged by Coroner H. Hickling, police who are endeavoring to reconstruct the story of the tragedy, believe the shooting was the outcome of a party at the Smith cabin. Smith is held as a material witness.

An autopsy performed by Dr. O. G. Ingman last night revealed that Hamilton's skull had been badly shattered by a rifle bullet which passed right through his head.

EARTH SHOCKS COME IN SERIES IN CALIFORNIA

Buildings in Imperial Valley Damaged, But No Deaths Are Reported

Brawley, Cal., Feb. 26.—A check to-day of the earthquake shocks which were felt in the Imperial Valley late yesterday, revealed that nearly forty disturbances occurred between 5 p.m. Tuesday and 4 a.m. to-day, causing widespread alarm and damaging buildings here and at Westmorland. No casualties were reported.

Several buildings were cracked here. At Westmorland a large number of structures were damaged and plate glass windows shattered. Adobe homes of some Mexicans near Westmorland were destroyed. Slighter damage was reported at Alcapitria.

HOTEL GUESTS ALARMED

Guests in the principal hotel here, frightened by the recurrent shocks, spent most of the night awake in the lobbies and patios.

Feeling expressed some damage might have resulted to Imperial Valley district canal, which are a vital factor in the agricultural industry of the valley, and immediate steps were taken to inspect them.

The first shock was felt at Calexico at 6:25 p.m. Seven other shocks were recorded there afterward, but no damage was done in the border city, the principal intensity apparently centering about this area.

P. B. FOWLER AGAIN HEAD OF CLUBMEN

Re-elected to Presidency of Canadian Club; Stresses Nation-building Aim

W. H. M. Haldane and Dr. W. M. Thomas Are Vice-presidents; Tribute Paid

Indicating the part the Canadian Club had to play in the making of Canada's history and stating that he would do all in his power to assist in that work, P. B. Fowler outlined his general policy following his reelection to the presidency of the local club at its meeting in the Empress Hotel yesterday evening.

Mr. Fowler thanked the members for returning him to office, saying that the presidency of a Canadian Club was one of the highest honors a community could bestow upon any man.

Mr. Fowler stated the chief aim of the Canadian Club was to aid in the building of the Canadian nation. There were too many people who thought that the making of Canada had been accomplished in former times. Such a belief was erroneous, and the nation was still in the making, he said.

In this work the Canadian Club was admirably situated. Mr. Fowler continued, since it had the unique position of linking the business and cultural classes of the nation, and was thereby in contact with the majority of the populace.

TRIBUTE TO PRESIDENT

John Cochrane, a member of the executive, paid tribute to the personal manner in which Mr. Fowler had presided over the club since the death of Mark W. Graham. He told of the manner in which the president had surmounted difficulties during the year, and expressed the opinion that the club could find no better man to lead its activities.

Mr. Cochrane's views were echoed by John Bunn, another executive member, who spoke of the efficient services of Mr. Fowler during the year just closed.

W. H. M. Haldane, who was returned as first vice-president, thanked the members for their courtesy in electing him to office and assured the gathering he would continue to do everything in his power to forward the work of the club.

Dr. W. M. Thomas, second vice-president, also addressed a few words to the gathering.

OTHER OFFICERS

Other members elected to the different positions follow: Honorary president, His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor; literary secretary, Fred McGregor; secretary, F. J. Senti; treasurer, C. W. Pangman; executive, Kenneth Ferguson, John Cochrane, J. R. Bunn, A. D. MacFarlane, Brooks Stephenson, R. A. C. Woolton, Byron Johnson and Alfred Carmichael.

EXCHANGES ARE ASKED NOW TO TIGHTEN RULES

Ontario Attorney-General Suggests Unfit Be Ousted From Stock Trading

Toronto, Feb. 26.—Suggestion that the membership of stock exchanges might undergo revision was expressed in the following words by Hon. W. H. Price, Attorney-General of Ontario, yesterday when he reviewed the work of his department during an address in the Legislature.

"Short selling cannot be abolished, but we want regulated short selling. This will be through the exchanges doing their duty regularly. They must have absolute power to put members off the floor."

U.S. Quota Bill Sets 76,000 For West Hemisphere

Chairman Johnson Expects Committee to Report Measure to House for Action in Few Days; Maximum Yearly Total From Canada and Newfoundland Would Be 67,556

Canadian Press
Washington, Feb. 26.—Restriction on western hemisphere immigration to an annual total of 76,074, including 67,556 for Canada and Newfoundland and 9,500 for Mexico, was proposed in a bill to-day by Chairman Johnson of the House immigration committee.

The measure is a revision of another bill offered by the Washingtonian and upon which the committee has held extensive hearings. The first bill proposed a limit of about 50,000.

Johnson said his committee probably would report favorably on the revised bill in a few days.

FARM LABOR

As a concession to southwestern agricultural interests using Mexican farm labor, the revised bill would allow 11,021 native born Mexicans to enter in the fiscal year 1931, and 6,961 in 1932. Thereafter the 2,900 limit would apply.

In the case of Canada and Newfoundland, Mexico and Cuba, under the measure the number of immigration visas issued would be four times the number of United States citizens who departed for permanent homes.

Teacher and Eight Indian Pupils Are Victims of Blaze

Sister Jeanne Deschanel broke her spine in a leap from the second floor. A Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company plane may start from here soon to carry Bishop Ovide Charlebois to the scene of the disaster, and the plane will bring here the sister whose spine is broken.

Word of the fire was brought to The Pas by a man who had driven from Cross Lake, which is fifty-five miles southeast of Wabowden and the nearest railway station.

CAUSE IS SOUGHT

The cause of the fire is not known. It is thought it started on the third floor of the building, in the west part of the main section where the Indian girls were quartered.

The sister superior died in a brave attempt to lead some of the children through the flaming building to safety. All of the children who perished were under nine years of age.

Bishop Charlebois to-day estimated the property loss would reach $200,000. The school was a three-story stone structure built in 1914. An addition was built in 1920.

The bodies of the sister superior and her eight pupils will be brought to The Pas on Friday. Probably they will be buried here.

The heroine of the fire, the sister superior, was born in a little village near St. Boniface, Que. She was an oblate sister of St. Boniface. She came to northern Manitoba in 1914, when the school was built at Cross Lake, remaining there until 1930, when she returned to Quebec. Three years later she came back to Cross Lake to take charge of the school.

Wheat Prices Start Upward At Winnipeg

18,000 Letters For the Prairies' First Air Mail

Winnipeg, Feb. 26.—More than 18,000 letters, totaling about 300 pounds, are awaiting the first westward flight of the prairie air mail service Monday.

DAY OF REMEMBRANCE

Ottawa, Feb. 26.—A request that November 11 in each year be set apart as a national holiday and a day of remembrance entirely separate from Thanksgiving Day is being placed before Parliament by the Canadian Legion.

WHEAT

Winnipeg, Feb. 26.—Wheat, driven to record low levels yesterday, started on the long comeback in a nervous market here to-day, that reacted to unexpected advances at Liverpool and Chicago.

At all times higher than the previous close, wheat values had scored net gains of 3/2 cents to 1 1/2 cents at the finish to-day.

Early upward price movements were due to reports of strength and some scattered buying here against overnight export business. Later in the session, Chicago reports furthered the rush for better prices. At closing time the May future had been marked up to $1.14, July to $1.15, to $1.15 1/2, and October to $1.17 1/2, all about a half cent below the day's high quotations.

Trade volume was not large, though covering some 100,000 bushels. The market reached its top—too freely for the high to be held.

H. T. Ravenhill Tells Body of Organization's Lack of Leaders

Canadian Club Donates Grant of $50 to Movement

Donations of $50 to the local Boy Scout movement, $10 to the League of Nations Society, in the form of an incorporate membership, and $5 to the National Parks Board as a subscription, were made by the Canadian Club at its annual meeting in the Empress Hotel yesterday evening.

Before making the donation to the Scouts, President P. B. Fowler called upon H. T. Ravenhill to address a few words to the gathering on the work being carried on in Victoria by the movement he represented.

Mr. Ravenhill told briefly of the achievement of the organization in securing a clubhouse, due to the support of the Kiwanis Club and kindred bodies, and of the problems facing the Scouts at the present time. There was a great scarcity of leaders for the boys in the different troops around

Growth and Work Of Canadian Club Shown In Report

Membership Up Approximately 100 Over Last Year; Addresses by Prominent Men During Season Reviewed; Advice of Graham Spry, National Secretary in Canadianization of Foreign Immigrants, Touched Upon; Churchill Lecture Outstanding Event of 1929

Showing the increased membership in the association during last year over previous seasons, and outlining an enrolment objective of 1,000 for the next three months, F. J. Sehl, secretary of the Men's Canadian Club, read the executive's report at the annual meeting in the Empress Hotel yesterday evening. He outlined the programme of the club during the year which had just ended and spoke of the many successful meetings, dinners and luncheons it had held. Outstanding of these was the luncheon addressed by Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill. At that gathering over 700 members had been present.

Of particular interest had been the visit of Graham Spry, national secretary of the Association of Canadian Clubs, who had met the executive of the local club and given its members much useful advice. Many other speakers of world-wide fame had been invited to speak before the club, but had been unable to through illness or other reasons.

The report read as follows:

"Fifteen luncheons and dinner meetings were held during the year and the following guests entertained: Major

Diamond Chapman-Huston; L. B. Franklin, Australia, and P. Milner, New Zealand, delegates to National Council of Education; Major D. L. McKend, of Department of Interior, Ottawa; Professor A. K. Chanda of India, delegate to National Council of Education; Sir William Clarke, Basil Allen, W. Herbert Garrison, Hon. Herbert Marler, Hon. Jean Knight, Minister of Finance in Canada; Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, Sir John Sandeman, Allen, The Bishop of Winchester, Hon. Col. J. L. Ralston, Minister of Militia and Defence; L. J. Burpee, delegate to Kyoto Conference, and Dr. J. S. Plaskett.

OUTDOOR LUNCHEON
"In addition to the above, the members of the club were the guests of Professor and Mrs. Straight, superintendent of the Dominion Experimental Farm, on August 19, when the Honorable Dr. Motherwell was the guest of the day. This proved to be an exceptionally enjoyable gathering, where luncheon was served out in the open on a perfect summer's day.

"Your committee deprecates the infrequent attendance at some of the luncheons and wishes to assure the members that the speakers' committee exercises great care in issuing invitations only to such prospective guests as it is evident from information obtained, will have a real message to impart to the members. Extensive efforts, sometimes amounting almost to coercion, are made to secure the acceptance of a particularly prominent guest.

MEMBERSHIP LARGER

"The paid up membership at the end of the year is 817, exclusive of honorary members, as compared with 721 at the end of last year, and with 603 at the end of the previous year.

"One hundred and fifty-five new members were elected during the year just closed.

"The co-operation of the whole membership is solicited in the efforts of the committee to bring the membership to our objective of 1,000 during the next three months.

SOUGHT OTHER SPEAKERS

"An invitation was also extended to the following distinguished travelers, but acceptance could not for various reasons be secured, either on account of arrangement of itineraries, lack of time of sickness. They were: The late Sir James Aikens, Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba; Lord Weir, G. H. Stevens, Canadian Trade Commissioner from Cape Town; Sir John Aird, Sir Arthur Duckham, Sir Rabindranath Tagore, Honorable Alfred Sze, Chinese Minister to the United States; His Excellency Governor-General Lord Willington, H.R.H. the Duke of Gloucester, Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Hon. Phillip Roy, The late Hon. James A. Robb, Hon. T. R. Bavin, Premier of New South Wales; Earl of Cromer, Lord Hanworth, Rt. Hon. L. C. M. S. Amery, Sir Henry Thornton, E. W. Beatty, president C.P.R. Co.; Lord Hallahan, Sir John Martin Harvey, Hon. Iyemasa Tokugawa, Japanese Minister to Canada; General Jan Smuts, R. B. Bennett, Colonel Withers and Honorable Chief Justice Anglin.

NATIONAL SECRETARY'S VISIT

"Graham Spry, national secretary of the Association of Canadian Clubs, paid a visit to this city and held a meeting with the executive, outlining the work accomplished at the national office, and telling of plans for the future.

CANADIAN CLUB FAVORS GREATER BURSARY GRANT

Will Give $100 Scholarship For Victoria College and Will Increase Prizes

Further moves on the part of the Canadian Club to encourage scholastic pursuits among young students took definite shape yesterday evening, when that body decided to increase its scholarship for Victoria College from $35 to $100, and to add to the total of prizes distributed throughout the grade schools of Victoria and vicinity a sufficient sum to make them reach the value of $100 all told.

A motion was sponsored by B. C. Nicholas, who suggested that the College bursary be increased to $100, and was furthered by P. McGregor, who added an amendment to increase the number of prizes for pupils taking highest marks in the entrance examinations in Canadian history.

Approval of the move was voiced by several of the members, F. J. Sehl, secretary, contending that its activity in stimulating scholastic competition was one of the chief objectives of the club.

A similar opinion was voiced by J. Stewart, manager of schools, who maintained that particular attention should be paid to the rural schools in this matter. In the city, he stated, there were several inducements to study, while in the schools of the outlying districts there were comparatively few bursaries offered to the student who secured high marks. He added the suggestion that the club think of giving prizes to pupils in rural schools, stating that the organization might consider the educational institutions of Sooke, North Saanich, Sidney and the Gulf Islands as fitting fields in which to exercise its power in this respect.

The latter suggestion was laid on the table for further consideration by the executive.

Saanich Will Fill Seat Of George Watson

The Saanich Council last night formally declared vacant the Ward Three seat held by the late Councillor G. P. Watson. Nominations for the vacancy will take place at the Municipal Hall on Wednesday, March 6. If an election is necessary it will be held on Saturday, March 8.

The matter was broached by Reeve Grouh, who pointed out that, with important matters such as the budget, unsettled, Ward Three should be given representation at the council table as early as possible.

The following resolution of sympathy with the family of the late Councillor Watson was adopted by a standing vote as soon as the council convened:

"This meeting of the Saanich Municipal Council, assembled on February 25, 1930, wishes to place on record its deep regret at the passing of George P. Watson, who for so many years sat at this table and conducted the municipal business as reeve, councillor, police commissioner and school trustee. We know that Saanich has lost a splendid citizen and the council mourns his passing. That a copy of this resolution be sent to Mrs. Watson and her daughter, with our deepest sympathy and regret."

SAANICH CLUB PLANS RALLY

North Saanich Service Club to Hold Social Supper on March 5

The social supper of the North Saanich Service Club to be held on Wednesday, March 5 at 8 o'clock, will feature an address on the "Phases of Law," to be presented by H. Despard Twigg, M.P.P.

After supper, H. P. Hope, principal of Brentwood College, will discuss the sporting fields of Cambridge, in a portrayal of the sporting spirit of that great national seat of learning.

Included in the evening's programme will be a demonstration of tumbling and sparring, including a three-round exhibition sparring match under the direction of Dr. H. Keown.

The Young Players will present as a curtain raiser, "Miss Civilization," and later in the evening a playlet, entitled "Ether Ethics."

During the evening Bert White, popular entertainer, will present Wing Chung, China's most unique entertainer, recently off tour from the Keith-Orpheum and Capital Theatre circuits. Dancing will conclude the evening.

Tickets are available at the Sidney Pharmacy, Capt. Nat. Gray, Saanich, and the Toggery Shop, Pemberton Building, Victoria.

RECALLING OF COMMISSIONER NOT EXPLAINED

R. A. Haynes Returns to Australia From Canada to Make Report

Vancouver, Feb. 26.—A special cable to The Vancouver Daily Province to-day from Sydney, Australia, says:

"Mystery surrounds the recall of R. A. Haynes, recently appointed Australian Commissioner to Canada, who will arrive here aboard the liner Aorangi Friday.

"The Federal Labor Government is silent, and there is no confirmation of the recall of Mr. Haynes, nor of reasons for his sudden return just after he had not settled down to the work of organizing his office in Toronto.

FACTORY MOVE

"It is understood he has been recalled in view of his utterances in Canada, which were regarded by the Government as prejudicial to Australia. One utterance which caused the Government concern is believed to have been that McKay was establishing a factory in Canada because of industrial unrest in Australia. Haynes is also said to have quoted figures considered likely to have given a false impression of conditions in Australia."

CANDIDATES ARE SELECTED BY SEATTLE VOTERS

Seattle, Feb. 26.—Breaking the long chain of close majority elections, Mayor Frank Edwards, chief candidate for the nomination to succeed himself as chief executive of Seattle, overwhelmed his two opponents in the primary election yesterday, polling more votes than Otto A. Case and former Mayor Edwin J. Brown combined.

The complete unofficial returns from the 406 precincts in the city gave Edwards a vote of 32,716 to 17,866 polled by Case, and 13,377 obtained by Brown. As a result of the primary, Edwards and Case will oppose each other in the general election March 11. The election was conducted on a non-partisan basis. A vote of 63,959 was cast out of a registration of 117,969.

SURPRISES SEEN

While the majority contest ran true to pre-election predictions, the race for the six council nominations, from which three are to be elected next month, was a revelation to the most seasoned observers of city politics.

Frank J. Laube led the field with 29,223 votes, while John E. Carroll, candidate to succeed himself, was a close second with 29,909 votes. James Scavotto ran third with 29,334; A. Lou Cohen, present member of the council, fourth with 24,597, and William Hickman Moore, also a member of the council, fifth, with 19,962 votes.

Laube and Scavotto are comparative beginners in municipal political affairs, and it was predicted they would run no stronger than fourth and fifth in the field, just as it was predicted Carroll, Cohen and Moore would receive the first three places in the council-makeup vote.

Harry W. Carroll and Herbert Collier were re-elected without opposition to the positions of comptroller and treasurer, respectively.

POLICE CALLED TO HOUSE WHEN BURGLAR SEEN

Vancouver, Feb. 26.—Police were called to 2490 West First Avenue again Tuesday, when Mrs. Annie Robinson, housekeeper there, who on February 7 reported she had been attacked by a thug and whose story was later investigated by Chief W. J. Bingham, said she had seen a man in the basement.

The man was ransacking trunks when she discovered him, she said. The only description she gave police was that the intruder wore a grey cap.

ISLAND MAN HEADS POULTRY POOL OF CANADA

Edmonton, Feb. 26.—Directors of the Canadian Poultry Pool, in annual conference here, have elected the following board from among those representing the pools of the four western provinces: President, Alister Forbes, Cobble Hill, B.C.; vice-president, Mrs. Bertha Holmes, Aquith, Sask.; W. A. Landreth, Winnipeg, general manager; L. B. Crawford, Winnipeg, secretary-treasurer.

Dreams Discussed

"In answering the question, 'Where do we go when we go to sleep?' the latest scientific conclusion is that sleep is the absence of the personality from the brain. When we awaken, the personality returns to the brain. Theosophy teaches that falling asleep means the entrance of the personality into an invisible realm—the same world entered by the so-called dead at the time of passing out and called by the theosophist 'the astral plane.' Being in a higher dimension, the man is able to contact a higher measure of consciousness. Occasionally, under suitable bodily conditions, he can bring this larger knowledge through in the form of dreams." This was the statement by Miss Elaine Scribner in her lecture last night in the Pemberton Building on "Dreams and Premonitions."

Fantastic, illogical dreams were due to a different cause, the speaker stated, being merely fragmentary impressions of the physical brain.

"How to Dominate the Subconscious Mind" will be the subject for the lecture by Miss Scribner on Friday evening.

CHURCHILL NOT SUPPORTING NEW CUTS IN NAVY

London, Feb. 26.—At a meeting of the Navy League of Great Britain to-day, Right Hon. Winston Churchill, former Chancellor, spoke against too much naval reduction.

Mr. Churchill said the league had met to express the "profound and growing anxiety," with which it had endeavored to follow the present Naval Limitation Conference.

Speaking on a resolution which opposed sanctioning any further reduction in Great Britain's naval forces and which favored annual provision for such laying down of vessels as were necessary to maintain the existing strength, Mr. Churchill declared the British Government at the conference was alone among the powers represented that stood on its own feet. He said the government presented an aspect of shuffling retreat and of precipitately proffered concessions.

It was felt, he said, that Great Britain was being pushed and edged into whatever might turn out to be to the general convenience and wishes of the other four powers.

NO DECISION YET ON BUS FRANCHISE, DAVIE ANNOUNCES

"The citing of these matters is designed to create a prejudice in your minds," he reiterated, "might we not at this time assure Mr. Robertson that his fears of prejudice are groundless?"

C. F. Davie, chairman, preferred to allow Mr. Robertson to proceed without delay.

PRESIDENT MURRIN

Mr. Murrin said his protest was limited to the exclusive character of the franchise to be accorded the Blue Line. He declared Oak Bay to be a part of Victoria, inseparable, and anything which jeopardized the interests of Victoria had to be considered.

"Looking at the thing broadly, the Blue Line comes to you, supported by Oak Bay, and ask an exclusive franchise, not over a route, but over a whole area. There are thousands of bus lines in Canada, and outside of Victoria no exclusive franchise covering a whole territory can be found," he stated, declaring the transportation business to be a state of flux and must be kept flexible.

Mr. Murrin stated that under the terms of the proposed franchise, no joint service, to include Oak Bay, could be given unless the Blue Line were included.

LACKED VISION

"I'll admit that when we refused extensions of our Oak Bay lines some years ago, we were short-sighted. I'll admit we should have done so, despite the certainty of heavy losses," Mr. Murrin said.

He declared that transportation by motor buses to serve the area could not be given at fares possible by street cars, and insisted on the necessity of a unified transportation system. Buses as feeders to car lines were practical and would become common.

HEAVY LOSSES

"Out of the last five years we have had a loss in four, in one year, 1926, we made a profit of $853," he summarized, showing that the capital invested in the Victoria car system, $1,800,000, the net profits being $39,000 in 1923 and $16,000 in 1924. Losses were $8,000 in 1925, $17,201 in 1927, $20,877 in 1928 and $30,010 in 1929.

Mr. Murrin said the Oak Bay car service was part of a unified system, and believed that the Blue Line could successfully operate if given a franchise limited to the routes traversed, instead of a blanket right over all Oak Bay.

"In spite of the fact that we have been losing money, we have not asked increased fares for many years," Mr. Murrin said, citing private and eastern cities with fares of 10 cents, the lowest being one instance of 7 cents. He compared these with the 6-cent fare charged Greater Victoria.

FARES MUST GO UP

Mr. Murrin declared that if the Blue Line when holding an exclusive franchise, found profit vanish, the Oak Bay Council would have to allow increased fares. The bus line's revenue was in part derived from diversion of the earnings of the street car system. He considered "pretty sloppy business" any arrangement which, by lack of foresight, would result in curtailment of street car service to Oak Bay, only to be later resumed when the bus system met the inevitable collapse in fare-box. A bus franchise was a salable commodity, without any fixed investment, and should therefore be treated differently.

TRACKLESS TROLLEY

Mr. Murrin stated that the "trackless trolley," which originated in Leeds twenty years ago, has made more progress in the last year than any other public transportation system. It may yet become a most important adjunct to our system," he said.

WOULD CHANGE POLICY

Replying to Mr. Manson, Mr. Murrin said, if the whole proceedings of the last ten years had to be done over, I'd admit we should have done so, despite the certainty of heavy losses," Mr. Murrin said.

"If we were required, I am prepared, by some means, to give a service in the southern Oak Bay district, possibly by transfers, at the regular street car fare," Mr. Murrin said.

"Only in the last two or three years has the practice of bus feeders been evolving itself. Had this proposal been put up to us in 1927 we could not have considered it," he explained.

"We cannot run the service I talk of between the Point Bay and Oak Bay termini, at a profit. It can only be justified by our responsibility for the transportation system of the whole of Greater Victoria," Mr. Murrin said in reply to E. M. Poole, who is appearing with H. A. Maclean for the Blue Line.

Power was charged to the street car system at a one-cent rate, aggregating $8,000 for last year, he explained.

IMPRATICABLE AND DANGEROUS

A PROPOSAL IN THE LEGISLATURE
That among the requirements of people who desire to marry should be a medical certificate of mental and physical fitness, suggests so many difficulties that it is very unlikely to be adopted. In the first place, as Hon. Mr. Maitland pointed out, its adoption would cause prospective contracting parties to go to some community to get married where the laws of this province do not prevail. In fact, most of the marriages of British Columbia people would take place on the other side of the international boundary line.

Port Angeles would be the chief happy hunting ground as far as Victoria is concerned, while Bellingham would be the centre of a new industry resulting from the courtship of people of Vancouver and the lower mainland. Then there is Friday Harbor, just eight miles from Sidney, where all the facilities for a quick and happy despatch would be promptly provided. This would be a bonanza for Washington towns. It is true that Oregon has a law similar to the kind proposed for British Columbia; as a result, young couples from that state trek across the Columbia River to Fort Vancouver—which, of course, is in the state of Washington—to get married.

Apart from the resentment which such a requirement would generally arouse, it would put too much power in the hands of the medical profession, and we are not convinced that this profession, notwithstanding the progress it has made since the time of Hippocrates, has reached a stage where it could exercise that power to the best advantage. It still has much to learn about human life, death, the mysteries of the mind and body. Mistakes in diagnosis are numerous and always will be, since there is no perfection anywhere on this earth. And mistakes in these particular circumstances would be tragic. We might even have the spectacle of a young practitioner, not sure of his diagnosis, calling in a group of specialists for a profound consultation over the physical condition of some would-be bride and groom, only to develop a difference of opinion which could not be bridged, while the perturbed young candidates would be waiting, on "pins and needles," like prisoners in the dock, the return of the jury.

It is clear, too, that as marriage is a public institution under direct state control, the practice of medicine would have to be a public function under similar direction if the medical certificate proposal were adopted. If the state wanted a clean bill of health as one of the qualifications for matrimony, it would have to set up its own machinery for providing it. Nor would it be sufficient merely for prospective grooms and brides to undergo medical examination before securing permission to marry, if the purpose of the proposal to which we refer is to be served. They would have to undergo periodical inspection after they were married, because one of the numerous prohibitory maladies may have crept into the domestic establishment in the meantime. Then what?

Would it not be necessary for the state in such circumstances to have the power to annul the marriages of such persons by order-in-council? If the protection of posterity is the objective this proposal has in view surely the state should be empowered to keep medical check upon all married persons and to annul marriages as its periodical medical reports dictated. And that would mean chaos. The social evil would flourish like the deadly upas tree and society would go to the how-wows.

What is needed, instead of legislative meddling with the private lives of people, of regulating their activities, aspirations, aims and purposes from breakfast to dinner and from the cradle to the grave, is the better education of the young people of the country in the problems which most intimately concern them. If the homes, schools and religious institutions perform this elementary duty wisely, there will be no need of the state bungling with laws which cannot be enforced and which, if they could be enforced, would do indescribable harm.

THE RIGHT PROPAGANDA

IF THE MINISTER OF EDUCATION HAS not already done so, it is to be hoped he will make formal application to the Dominion authorities for copies of the Peace Pact and give instructions for one to be displayed in every school of the province. It is recalled by a decision of the United Church Presbytery that when Premier King was in the west several weeks ago he promised to supply the necessary copies to any province from which an application for them came from the provincial authorities.

It is important that the young mind be taught to think in terms of peace. The boys and girls who are going to school now know little or nothing about the war, its causes, its conduct, or its cost in lives and treasure. As yet they know little about the implications of its aftermath, what huge sums of money will have to be found by the peoples of many nations to settle the material account of that conflict. Upon them and their children, however, will fall the greater part of this obligation.

It is imperative that the economics of the last war be made plain to the boys and girls of today in order that they may play their part in preventing another such calamity. Prominently displayed in the schools, the Peace Pact would be a constant reminder of what more than fifty nations have promised to do, and a clear appreciation of what that undertaking means, together with a knowledge of what the Great War will mean to them as they contribute their share towards its cost, should insure the creation of a resolve among the rising generation which will do more to promote international goodwill than the present efforts of statesmen.

EXIT CHAUTEUPS, RE-ENTER TARDIEU

IT IS A RISKY BUSINESS TO WRITE about political prospects in France at any time, especially if there is any disposition to discuss the policies of one particular government. We now have the case of the ministry formed by M. Chauteups, which succeeded that of M. Tardieu, which succeeded that of M. Briand. M. Chauteups met the Chamber of Deputies yesterday for the first time and staked the fate of his government on the familiar confidence motion. He hoped and expected to obtain a mandate to proceed with the business of the country; but his vote of 277 encountered 292 opposition votes. Thus, after only a few days as Premier, he becomes an ex-Premier and M. Tardieu has been called upon by President Doumergue to try his hand again. He has consented and, according to custom, his success in the task will be followed immediately by a test in the Chamber.

In the ordinary way a political crisis in France causes only a mild flutter of interest in the chancelleries of Europe and none at all on this side of the Atlantic. The prominent parliamentarian in the Chamber of Deputies who has not had the honor of being called upon to form a government will soon be an oddity in the political life of the country. The defeat of the Tardieu and Chauteups ministries within a few days of one another, however, is unfortunate because it has caused delay in the progress of the naval parley in London. Already an adjournment of a week has been necessary, and an extension has only been avoided by the delegates arranging to continue their duties on the understanding that they will agree to nothing involving the interests of their country. It begins to look as if M. Briand, who holds the Prime Minister's chairmanship of France, will have to be persuaded to take the job for about the twelfth time. He seems to be able to command confidence for a longer stretch than any other leader.

THE CANADIAN CLUB

THE CANADIAN CLUB IS TO BE CON-gratulated upon the selection of its officers for the ensuing year. In Mr. P. B. Fowler it will have an able and energetic president. Since the death of Mr. Mark Graham he has been guiding the destinies of the club and the manner in which he has discharged his duties amply justified his confirmation in the position. Mr. Fowler will be assisted by a capable executive whose members may be relied upon to maintain the enthusiastic spirit which has marked the activities of the organization in the past. Under Mr. Fowler's presidency, therefore, we predict another successful year.

WAS IT WORTH IT?

ATTORNEY-GENERAL POOLEY, in reply to a question from Dr. Sutherland, has informed the Legislature that although "investigations of the operations of the Government Liquor Act have been conducted for some time, it is not deemed advisable in the public interest to give any further information on the subject."

The obvious implication in this answer is that in spite of a long and costly inquiry into a branch of the public service of the province that has caused more controversy than any other in recent years, the public is not to be given an opportunity of judging whether the "fishing expedition" which has been conducted was worth the money spent upon it or not.

This is not the public's idea of democratic government. The commissioner appointed for this inquiry was not a member of the civil service and if, as the Attorney-General admits, his investigations have covered a considerable time, the cost must have been pretty heavy. The taxpayers have furnished the money to pay for this work. To them an accounting is due.

During the present session the government has drawn liberally upon the protection of the term "not in the public interest." It must not be surprised, therefore, if the public gets impatient and interprets official silence as an admission that discoveries so far made have not been worth the expenditure upon the investigations it has conducted.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

VOTES FOR QUEBEC WOMEN

The Chatham News
We predict that the women of Quebec will eventually get the vote if they stick to the fight long enough. There seems to be a disposition on the part of legislators to give the women anything they ask for, including the right to sit in the Senate. Premier Taschereau seems to be an outstanding exception to the rule, but even he may in the end find that it is impossible to hold out all alone.

ST. LAWRENCE WATERWAY

The Toronto Star
Canada tried throughout a fifty-year period to attract the traffic of the United States' middle west down the St. Lawrence and when the United States finally decided to use that route the Dominion as good as slammed the door in her face. What sense there was in that action, after spending one hundred and fifteen millions in building an approach to that door for the United States in the form of a new Welland Canal, it is hard to say.

DEVOTES OF SPORT

The Chicoutimi Press
People of all ages and both sexes waste precious hours discussing the chances of this or that club, and of this or that boxer or wrestler to vanquish his opponent. I should like to see a part of these thousands of hours, which are lost each year, employed in the study of matters which may improve our young people. I should like to see some of them used in work of a social, literary, artistic, economic or other useful character. In all sincerity we waste too much time talking about sports.

A THOUGHT

If, when evil cometh upon us, as the sword, judgment, or pestilence, or famine, we stand before this house, and Thy presence (for Thy name is in our house), and cry unto Thee in our affliction, then Thou wilt hear and help.—II Chronicles xxv.
If evil is inevitable, how are the wicked accountable? Nay, why do we call men wicked at all? Evil is inevitable, but it is also remediable.—Horace Mann.

Across the Bay

We have a well-balanced meal for once—Mr. Pattullo decides to appeal to the electorate—Mr. Burden is accused of rushing—Mr. Atkinson finds his sword and uses it—and Mr. Bill McKenzie comes to the rescue.

By H. R. W.

BY ONE of those miracles which they do not often achieve, the chiefs of politics provided us on Tuesday with a well-balanced meal. We had the well-seasoned soup of Mr. Pattullo's best argument. As a main course we had a feast of reason provided by the united efforts of all present. We had a perfectly delightful entrée of homely and unassuming humor from Mr. Atkinson. And to top it all off we had such a dessert as only Hon. Bill McKenzie can serve up with waving hands and cutting sarcasm for the world in general.

THIS GREAT banquet started with Mr. Pattullo on his feet at the very beginning to deplore an outrage to the privileges of Parliament. This turned out to be an article published in a Vancouver paper of Monday concerning the finances of the University of British Columbia. It was an outrage on the rules of Parliament, he said, because this report had reached the press before it reached the House, and before he could get it.

THAT, HOWEVER, was not all. Not content with thus affronting Parliament the Minister of Lands, Mr. Burden, had filed the report on the university and then rushed across the floor of the House to snatch it back again, out of the very jaws of the opposition. In fact, just as Mr. Pattullo's emissary, Mr. Kergin, was rushing to seize it. This Mr. Burden flatly denied, but Mr. Kergin said he had rushed as fast as he could and Mr. Burden had beaten him. Therefore, he thought Mr. Burden must have been rushing the report across the floor. Mr. Pattullo said that during the coming year he would march through British Columbia and tell the public the truth about it.

TO THIS Mr. Pattullo added a romantic allusion. He said that in the good old days of chivalry it was the custom of southern gentlemen, when they disagreed, to fight a duel. At this the House listened and tittered nervously, wondering whether Mr. Pattullo was about to invoke the supreme arbitration of mortal combat. The House pictured Mr. Pattullo as the Premier marching out at dawn behind the legislative buildings and there shooting it out to the death like their forefathers, to decide whether the university lands report should have been rushed or not, and whether Mr. Burden had beaten him. The House was merely hurried. Of the two sides the Conservatives probably view the prospect with most alarm as their champion is by far the easier target for a revolver. Unhappily for the majority of nations, Mr. Pattullo did not press the duel plan but fought his duel with words, saying that the government had tried to disarm him and then fired at him while he was unprotected.

FROM THAT we passed once more to the Camp Lister soldier settlement and its famous waterworks. About the legality of the government's action in spending $63,000 to build these waterworks argument waxed hot and dull for over an hour, the opposition contending that the expenditure was illegal and the government insisting that it was necessary to repair the wreck of the settlement left by Mr. Pattullo.

THAT, HOWEVER, was not the issue of the moment. The issue of the moment was that while the government claimed to have a good reason for spending the money, it was incredibly clumsy in explaining just where it got the money to spend. In this little crisis Minister of Agriculture Atkinson suddenly strode into the fray with a spirit which no one had ever suspected before. This debate, indeed, may be said to have discovered Mr. Atkinson. Instead of the quiet, diffident farmer from Chilliwack, he suddenly appeared as a fighting Minister, his eyes in the opposition rubbed his eyes in wonderment. Mr. Pattullo, indeed, was obviously delighted, for everyone likes Mr. Atkinson. "How did you get the money out of the treasury?" thundered Mr. Pattullo. "How do you get money out of anything?" thundered back Mr. Atkinson, and at this classic retort the whole House rocked and Mr. Pattullo grew quite purple with merriment.

FROM THAT Mr. Atkinson, warming up still more, said he was a new man on the job and didn't know much about law, sir, and didn't understand all these new-fangled notions of procedure, but he knew farms and waterworks and wells, sir, you bet. And he wanted to say the settlers had to get water down in Creston and the government had given it to them, and that was all that interested him. When Mr. Pattullo tried to interrupt, this new-found warrior told him to sit down, that he was always jumping up on a fellow and causing a disturbance. Well, he proceeded, if the House wanted law he would give it, ending with a memorandum which he had secured during the discussion from no one knew where and the wording of which was profound enough to convince the most sceptical. It was so profound no one had any idea of its meaning.

STILL MR. PATTULLO was not satisfied. Still he could not see how the waterworks money had got out of the treasury, and if the truth were told the government was not very sure about the details itself. Even the Premier did not attempt to explain the exact processes of the law in this connection but rested his case with the people on its merits.

NOW ALL this time Mr. McKenzie, in his back bench, had sat silent but he was getting redder and redder all the time. When Mr. McKenzie gets red you may be sure there is an idea in his bosom clamoring for utterance. You may be sure also that it will be well and truly uttered. So it turned out. At the end of the whole afternoon of argument among the lawyers it was Mr. McKenzie who finally shed the first light on the whole business.

BUT YOU misjudge Mr. McKenzie if you think he stopped at that. Mr. McKenzie was mad by this time and when he is mad he is by far the most reckless, energetic man in the government. At this sort of business he has no equal in the party. He denounced Mr. Pattullo. He went so far that Mr. Pattullo finally demanded a withdrawal of this "disrespectful remark." Mr. McKenzie, remembering that last year a refusal to withdraw had cost him dear before the night was out, immediately withdrew. That is the danger of being the most reckless man in the government.

AT LAST the opposition allowed the validating legislation to pass without a vote, leaving the government's action to the judgment of the great intelligent electorate. And still the mystery of where the money for Camp Lister came from remained a mystery as it probably will forever.

TEST VOTE IN PRAIRIE HOUSE

Regina, Feb. 26.—With echoes of what have become to be known as the "Pratt charges" still ringing in their ears, members of the Saskatchewan Legislature divided yesterday for the first test of strength in the present session. The government was supported 33 to 26 on the vote.

The division came immediately after T. C. Davis, Liberal, had moved an amendment to the original motion of Hon. J. P. Bryant, K.C., Minister of Public Works, in which the latter asked that the statutory declarations affecting administration of the Weyburn hospital and the Regina jail, recently read by him in the House, be referred to the committee on public accounts for investigation. In speaking to his motion Mr. Bryant made it clear he was willing to have the same matters referred to a royal commission, an opinion that was sponsored by Premier J. T. M. Anderson.

DO YOU SUFFER WITH HEADACHE?

So easy to get quick relief and prevent an attack in the future. Avoid bromides and dope. They relieve quickly but affect the heart and are very dangerous. They are depressing and only give temporary relief, the cause of the headache still remains within. The same and harmless way. ## HIGHER SALARY SCALE IS URGED

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Feb. 25.—The Beatty Commission's report on technical and professional services of the Federal Government, tabled in the Commons yesterday afternoon, recommends increases in the annual salaries of the members of the Pension Board and the Civil Service Commission to make them: Chairmen, $8,000; commissioners, $7,500.

Salaries as high as $15,000 for certain deputy ministers with technical qualifications are suggested. Officials with the rank and not the title of deputy minister, Hon. Martin Burrell and K. de Latache, joint parliamentary librarians; A. E. Blount, clerk of the Senate; and A. Bouches, clerk of the House of Commons, are recommended "to be known in future by their official title only, but without the rank in question," but at higher salaries of $7,500 a year.

The report suggests simplification of the salary structure by substituting seven grades for the 303 heterogeneous and over-lapping salary groups into which the technical and professional services are now divided. These grades would offer the mechanics of the constant salary increases to the civil servants.

To deal with the vital question of promotion, the report proposes a bracketing of these grades into two divisions, distinguished by the method of advancement within them, the first division to comprise grades 1, 2 and 3, and the second division the senior grades. An outline of the resultant salary structure is given in the report.

FIRST DEBATE IN COMMONS IS BRIEF ONE

Ottawa House Turns to Business after Less Than Two Days' Preliminary Discussion

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Feb. 25.—Having devoted less than two days' sittings to the opening debate of the 1930 session, the House of Commons shortly before 9 p.m. yesterday squared away for the business before it by adopting, without the formality of a division, the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne. The final speaker, H. J. Barber, Conservative member for Fraser Valley, sat down shortly before the time had arrived for the evening recess. No one rose to continue. The speaker put the motion to the House, and it carried without a vote. The House adjourned until to-day. It was an abrupt and promising termination to a debate which in former years sometimes had taken more than a week of the time of the Commons.

BOURASSA SPEAKS

Henri Bourassa, Independent, LaSalle, Que., one of the speakers yesterday afternoon, urged religious freedom and racial equality in the prairie provinces. Dealing with the question of elections and the setting of dates for them, Mr. Bourassa said he preferred the United States method of holding elections on fixed dates.

EVANS SPEAKS OF WHEAT

John Evans, Progressive, Rosetown, Sask., said he believed the policy of protection was discriminatory against the farmers and the workers. Under the protective system the workers were deprived of their earnings, he said, and the farmers were victimized. The latter had to buy in a protected market while they were selling in a world market. Dealing with the prairie wheat situation, he said the Argentine wheat had been able to market its wheat in Great Britain by taking great quantities of British manufactured goods as imports. This had insured lower freight rates by providing return cargoes. Mr. Evans took the ground the Ottawa government must shoulder some of the blame for the prairie wheat situation.

BRADY SPEAKS

J. C. Brady, Conservative, Skeena, thought agriculture in Canada was "in a parlous state," while unemployment was an element which ought not to exist in this country. The fisheries industry both on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts was being menaced by United States interests, Mr. Brady continued.

The Peace River country, Mr. Brady said, needed an outlet to the Pacific and Prince Rupert was its logical port. He regretted the fact that the Canadian National Railway and Canadian Pacific Railway had taken over the

R. K. Smith, Conservative, Cumberland, N.S., spoke briefly.

FOR EX-SOLDIERS

H. J. Barber, Conservative, Fraser Valley, urged the Government to afford every relief to soldier settlers who were endeavoring to make good on the land. These settlers, Mr. Barber declared, were deserving of every encouragement and consideration.

OLD PLEDGES

Ottawa, Feb. 25.—People he represented, declared Henri Bourassa, Independent, LaSalle, Que., speaking in the House of Commons Tuesday, had no desire to impose any unfair obligations on the western provinces. They did insist, however, he said when speaking on the question of the return of the natural resources, that the pledges made in 1875 should be implemented, and that the same religious freedom and racial equality established in Ontario and Quebec should prevail in the newer provinces.

Sir John A. Macdonald, Edward Blake and other leaders of their time, he said, "joined hands to insure that in those virgin lands, in order to avoid the quarrels which had taken place in Ontario and Quebec, a warning should be given to all centres that the same law should prevail in the west as prevailed in Quebec, and that Catholics should be as free as Protestants, and Protestants as free as Catholics."

Questions Being Asked In The British Columbia Legislature

Mr. Hanna asked the Minister of Public Works:

1. How many Road Foremen are engaged by the department in the Alberni District?
2. How many of these have been appointed since August 20, 1928?
3. What are the names of those so appointed and the salary paid to each?
4. How many of the newly appointed Road Foremen are returned soldiers?
5. Were applications from returned soldiers requested?
6. What are the qualifications of each of the newly appointed foremen?

Mr. Loughheed replied:

1. Thirteen Road Foremen.
2. Seven.
3. (a) W. D. Gordon, Wellington; J. Roberts, Nanaimo; S. H. Jennings, Coombs (returned soldier); T. M. Patterson, Alberni; W. J. McDonald, Bamfield (late foreman resigned); J. Moore, Tofino (returned soldier); K. Hansen, Holberg (late foreman resigned); (b) $4.75 per day.
4. Two. (None of the foremen whose services were dispensed with or resigned were returned soldiers.)

5. Yes; from Tofino.

6. W. D. Gordon, Wellington (married), considerable experience during the last thirty years on construction work and handling men; J. Roberts, Nanaimo (married), worked on roads and in the woods all his life; S. H. Jennings, Coombs (married, returned soldier), rough bridge carpenter and good knowledge of construction; T. M. Patterson, Alberni (married), eight years' experience on road work in his district and has driven and handled every piece of road machinery owned by the Public Works Department in this district; W. J. McDonald (late foreman resigned), many years' experience on public works in his district; J. Moore, Tofino (married; returned soldier), considerable experience in handling men; K. Hansen, Holberg (married; late foreman resigned), present foreman had experience as Road Foreman in the same part of district.

Mr. Pearson asked the Minister of Public Works:

1. How many road-grading machines have been purchased since August 20, 1928?
2. What sizes were bought; where were machines built; what was the price paid in each case; and from whom were they purchased?
3. Where are said graders located, and where were they used during the year 1929?

Mr. Loughheed replied:
1 to 3. See Return presented to the House on February 18.

SUNSPOTS ARE STILL PUZZLE

W. E. Harper Heard in Address Before Royal Astronomical Society

The cause of sunspots, which were at their maximum in 1928, is not yet understood. W. E. Harper of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, told a meeting of the Victoria branch of the Royal Astronomical Society yesterday evening, in an address on progress made in astronomical science during the year 1929.

Auroral displays, said to be most numerous when the sunspots are at their maxima, were described in a theory advanced last year to ultra-violet radiation which escapes from the sun when a great hole is torn in its surface, continued the speaker.

The ultra-violet light ionizes the nitrogen and oxygen atoms in the upper air, and these make their way along lines of magnetic force to the vicinity of the magnetic pole, it is believed. At the pole recombination is said to take place, with auroral light as one manifestation of the phenomenon, Mr. Harper indicated.

Knowledge of the motions, distances and physical conditions of the stars grows apace, continued the speaker, citing the number of stars described by scientists of the great observatories. The moon, it was known, was not exactly in the position it should be from time to time, on the assumption of normal revolution about this planet.

The surface temperature of Jupiter had been determined as 180 degrees below zero, centigrade. Mars, with its sparse atmosphere, varied greatly in temperature with the time of day, but at noon might be likened to a cool autumn day on the earth, said Mr. Harper.

Teeth decay: Pyorrhea gets its start unless you act

Remove the FILM that breeds bacteria and turns white teeth dull and dingy

TOOTH DECAY is caused by germs. Pyorrhea usually results from germs and tartar.

Germs are imprisoned in a dingy, glue-like coating on the teeth called film. There they breed by millions in every crevice in contact with the teeth and tissues.

Film clings so stubbornly ordinary ways are not successful in removing it. Use the special formula called Pepsodent. You instantly notice the difference in the way it feels. Film vanishes. Teeth become gleaming white. Yet Pepsodent acts gently. No pumice, harmful grit or crude abrasive—but a soft, creamy paste that is prescribed for the softest teeth and tenderest gums.

PRESBYTERY OF UNITED CHURCH IN SESSION HERE

Seventy-five Delegates Gather For Annual Winter Parley

Equality in Ministers' Salaries and Mission Reports Discussed

With nearly seventy-five delegates in attendance the winter meeting of the Victoria Presbytery of the United Church opened yesterday at the First United Church.

Rev. James Hood, chairman of the presbytery, is in charge. Constitutional business, mission reports and some resolutions were discussed during the day, educational and statistical matters being left over until to-day.

Changes in pastoral charges on Vancouver Island were indicated by notification of intention to transfer by Rev. W. A. Alexander, Courtenay; Rev. R. Redman, Port Alberni; Rev. A. McLean, Alberni; Rev. A. R. Wiseman, Barkley Sound, and Rev. Peter Kelly, Nanaimo. These applications were referred to the British Columbia conference in May for settlement.

SALARY ADJUSTMENTS
Rev. H. A. Ireland introduced a resolution seeking a nearer approach to equality in ministers' salaries. He pointed out that salaries ranged from $1,800 at the minimum to as high as $6,000 and even $9,000. His motion appeared to be favorably received, but was passed on to the British Columbia conference without comment.

Commissioners to the biennial meeting of the General Council of the United Church, meeting in London, Ont., next September, were named. Rev. F. W. Anderson, Nanaimo, and Rev. Hugh Nixon, Victoria, are the ministerial representatives, and W. E. Harper and Capt. F. R. Wright the lay members.

PEACE PACT IN SCHOOLS
Placing of copies of the peace pact in the churches and Sunday schools of the Presbytery was favored in a resolution submitted by the committee on social service and evangelism and endorsed. The Presbytery will also approach the Department of Education with the suggestion that it will favorably consider the offer of Premier King to provide a copy of the pact in every school of the Province. The Prime Minister was said to have made this offer at a meeting in Ocean Falls, B.C., when a request was made by United Church leaders there.

Presidents of the seven men's clubs in the Presbytery were formed into a committee for the promotion of this work. Reports on behalf of these groups were given by Rev. W. F. Burns, Duncan; Rev. W. G. Wilson and J. Stragg, First United Church; Rev. W. J. Sippell and Mr. Fullbrook, Metropolitan Church; Rev. W. A. Guy, Oak Bay; Rev. Hugh Nixon, Fairfield; Rev. George Pringle, Centennial.

Y.P. CONFERENCE
Cecil Davies, James Bay Church, reported on the work of Young People's Societies, stating that arrangements were being made for the annual conference at Duncan on Good Friday. Seventeen societies would be represented.

Rev. S. T. Galbraith presented the report of the home missions committee, reviewing the mission work of the year, including that among Indians and Orientals.

Grants were recommended to the home mission board which meets in Toronto next month. It was also reported that a policy of reduction in the grants to churches was being carried out with the idea of making them self-supporting. This had met with considerable success, and the outlook at the present time was promising.

Erection of a church at Errington and manages at Ganges and Qualicum were reported.

ORIENTAL MISSION

Dr. S. S. Osterhout, superintendent of Oriental missions, stated arrangements had been made for co-operation of the Church of England and the United Church in mission work among the Chinese of Cumberland. The services of K. Nomoto an arts student of University of British Columbia, had again been secured, and this would relieve the burden of Rev. Y. Ogura, of this city, who has been ministering to the whole Japanese population of the Island.

The Presbytery will make application to the City Council for the exemption from taxation of property at 837 Pandora Avenue now used by the Japanese Mission.

Dr. W. J. Sippell reported on foreign missions, speaking of courtesies extended to missionaries en route to their work in the Orient.

MEHAREY ADDS SALES EXPERT

J. D. GOODWIN

A. A. Meharey, president of Meharey, Roe & Company, announced to-day that owing to increased volume in the real estate business it has become necessary to add another to the staff in order to give better service and take care of clients. In consequence, J. D. Goodwin has been appointed to the organization.

Mr. Goodwin has for years been connected with the sales and service force of Chrysler Motors and Durant Motors, having traveled with the former throughout Canada for some time and he has also had considerable experience with a large brokerage firm as organization and sales manager in various districts. This connection gives him a thorough knowledge of sales procedure and therefore the real estate public in particular will benefit by his wide experience.

Mr. Meharey stated that he is looking forward to a further increase in real estate business this year and expects sound expansion for Victoria and the Island. He reports that the firm since the new year commenced has turned over approximately $80,000 worth of property in Victoria and district.

Miss Emily Carr, speaking on "Modern Art," will address the Canadian Women's Club on Tuesday afternoon, March 4, in the concert hall of the Crystal Garden. In connection with the address, the club has arranged an exhibition of Miss Carr's work in the art gallery of the same building throughout the same afternoon. Because Miss Carr will speak on the new art form, members will have an opportunity to see the paintings after the address, when the speaker will be present to answer any questions.

PIONEER IN MODERN ART
A pioneer in the modern art form in Western Canada, Miss Carr is peculiarly fitted to interpret it, and will

She says that the term, "Modern Art," is purely relative, that art has always been modern, and that there have always been artists striving for new interpretative media. Many of those who are considered old masters to-day were subject to a storm of popular dis-

In explaining how to view a modern painting, it will be necessary to discuss certain technical problems of the artist and the means by which he seeks to arouse an emotional rather than an intellectual response to a picture. This will include the use of line and mass, plane surfaces, the placing of objects in space, the attainment of movement by skilful leading of the eye, elimination and sometimes even distortion. Paramount, of course, is the achievement of the interpretative rather than the photographic result.

Miss Carr will explain why she has chosen the primitive art of the Indian of this Coast for her expression and

On this Coast for her expression and tell something of what she has learned from them and her first-hand study of their art forms. That will take her naturally to Western Canada. It is her contention that in this vast, new land, an art peculiar to it must be evolved if the land is to be correctly interpreted to others.

BORN IN VICTORIA
Miss Carr is essentially a product of Western Canada, and of Victoria. She was born in Victoria, has spent most of her life here, and has studied the art of the Indians since she was fifteen years old. She first studied art in San Francisco, has spent five years in England and two years in Paris.

Her work has been hung in the Paris salon. In Canada she first exhibited in the National Gallery in Ottawa.

where many of her canvases were purchased. One now hangs in Hart House. Three pictures hung in the National Gallery were later moved to

Montreal, and soon are to be shown in Toronto. Recently she was asked to contribute two of sixty paintings of a collection to be shown throughout the United States by the Canadian Arts Club and the Carnegie Institute of Arts. This exhibit will open in the Corcoran Gallery in Washington, D.C., move to the Metropolitan Museum in New York, and thence to Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Chicago, and on across in large cities to the Pacific Coast. The exhibit will last one year.

WITH "GROUP OF SEVEN"
The April show of "The Group of Seven" in Toronto will have five of Miss Carr's paintings. As three of these have not left Victoria, the Canadian Women's Club is fortunate to be able to see them before they go east.

Two of Miss Carr's pictures are being shown now in Vancouver by the Pallet and Chisel Club, and four more will be sent in March to another Vancouver exhibit being arranged by David Spen-

WEDDING AT MOUNT NEWTON

Miss Nita Hassell Wed Yesterday to Capt. Gerrard Wylls, R.N. (Retired)

The little church of St. Stephen's at Mount Newton, was transformed into a bower of spring flowers for the wedding yesterday afternoon of Miss daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Hassell of Kent, England, and Capt. Gerrard Wylls, R.N. (retired), son of Dr. and Mrs. Wylls of Yarmouth, England. Rev. J. S. A. Bastin performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Frederick P. Hassell, of Duncan. She looked very charming in a gown of blue georgette and lace, and a grey hat trimmed with French flowers to match her gown. Her bouquet was of pale pink carnations and maidenhair fern.

Mrs. Henry Mann was matron of Honor and wore a becoming frock of gold crepe de Chine and hat to match. Viscount Colville was best man and the ushers were Major Wise and Mr. Hew Paterson. Mrs. Mann and Miss Wilkinson were responsible for the very effective decorations of the church.

Following the service a reception was held at Lord Colville's home, "Point Colville," where a large number of relatives and friends were received by the bride and groom. Mrs. Gale, Mrs. F. P. Hassell and Mrs. Hugh Leir, sister of the bride, assisted in receiving.

The bride and groom left later on their honeymoon trip to England, the bride traveling in a smart jumper suit, with fur coat and felt hat.

The out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Hassell of Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Leir of Penicton and Capt. and Mrs. R. E. Barkley of Westholme.

NOTED QUARTETTE TO PLAY HERE

One of the compositions of Frederick Delius, the blind English composer, will be a feature of the programme to be given by the Hart House String Quartette when that famous aggregation appears at the Empress Hotel on March 28. The recital will be under the joint auspices of the Ladies' Musical Club and the music department of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and is one of the series of British and Canadian concerts organized by the C.P.R.

Davie Proposes Oriental-White Marriages Stop

The Marriage Act, which is undergoing revision this session of the Legislature, will contain another drastic amendment which has frequently been the subject of debate of one proposed by C. F. Davie, Conservative, Cowichan-Newcastle.

He has given formal notice of intention to move that no marriage license shall be issued for a marriage between a white person and a person of the Chinese or Japanese race.

This coupled with the amendment offered by A. M. Manson, K.C., and Dr. L. E. Borden, providing that physical examinations of fitness shall be required before persons are allowed to marry, promises many lively hours of debate in the House of Assembly before the Hon. R. L. Maitland, K.C., sponsor of the new act, gets his measure safely through the Legislature.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MARY MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

ARE WE TRAINING CHILDREN TO BE HYPOCRITES?

If you could only be nice like your sister. See how sweet she is about helping mother to set the table and wash the dishes. Why can't you be nice like she is, so we would all love you?

Has a familiar sound, hasn't it? Some way we wonder why people continue to think that pointing out some other person's virtues will stimulate imitation. Everywhere families use this utterly ineffective method of trying to make their children all replicas of the most satisfying child in the family. The most satisfying is the child who conforms most easily to the wishes of the adults.

One mother says: "My eleven-year-old girl is so bright in school and so ambitious. She gets her lessons and comes home and helps me with the housework without a murmur. She is very saving also. Her sister, two years younger, is just the opposite. She is so mean and whines and grumbles at everything we ask her to do. I can't understand why she isn't more like her sister."

IGNORE BAD POINTS

No doubt from her earliest recollection she has had to gaze upon this paragon of an older sister with admiration. The older sister is made to copy her younger sister. The older boy is told if he would only be as sweet as baby everyone would love him as much. Instead of inspiring a child to imitate the other child, all these things simply antagonize him. He wants to be liked for himself alone. He wants his good points stressed and his bad ones ignored. If he chooses his older brother or sister as a pattern it is not because the parents have told him it is an admirable pattern to follow, but because he finds the older child so sweet and likeable that he longs to imitate him. This has to come from within the child, not from pressure without.

All that admonitions to be like someone else have ever done for a child is to make him go farther and farther in the opposite direction. He glories in refusing to help his mother when this priggish sister does it so sweetly. Let her do it, thinks he to himself. She must like to, I don't. And so he upholds his own difference.

FIND SOME VIRTUES

Inside of him there is a hurt place too. He feels that he is to be liked also, and he wants to win his parents' affection without performing what he considers hypocritical acts.

The parent who grumbles at a child, exhorting him or her to be like some one else is certainly blind, for she cannot but see that it doesn't work. One may try anything once or even twice, but after that if it is still unsuccessful it is a most unintelligent mother who refuses to change her tactics.

Try another method with the child in the family whose behavior is antagonistic. Begin trying to find some virtues that can be applauded and praised even if one has to make a real effort to find them. There is always something about every child that can be drawn out and summed by the family approval. It is surprising how quickly the "bad" child will begin to live up to these virtues.

MUCH TOBACCO IS SMOKED BY MEXICO WOMEN

Cigarette Habit Increases in Republic, Where Women Outnumber Men

Special to The Times

Mexico City, Feb. 26.—Canadian visitors to Mexico soon discover the popular foreign notion of the average male Mexican is somewhat erroneous, and that the citizen of this country does not possess a vast appetite for cigarettes. Tourists from the Dominion find great numbers of Mexican men do not smoke and that many others indulge in only an occasional cigarette or cigar. Pipe smoking in the republic is confined almost exclusively to foreigners. This abstemiousness from tobacco as far as many male natives of this country are concerned is especially the case in the cities.

Cigarettes of all kinds, domestic and imported, are consumed in enormous quantities in Mexico. Tobacco in this form is on sale almost everywhere, and the manufacturers do all in their power to boost business. Each popular priced packet contains a coupon, for fifteen of which a free packet is given. Twenty empty packets gain the holder a ticket to a lottery. Every day witnesses the appearance of another brand of cigarettes. Popular brands of tobacco in this form manufactured in Britain are on sale here and are readily bought, although the prices are some 200 per cent higher than in the country of origin, thanks to the high protective tariff.

HABIT OF WOMEN

Investigating tourists are not long in finding out who it is that accounts for this great cigarette consumption. Beggars women meet them with outstretched palms and cigarettes dangling from their lips. Female newspaper-vendors cry their wares between puffs at paper-wrapped tobacco. Smart motorists and seniors with modern views smoke in all places. Waitresses and house maids accept cigarettes as readily as they do money.

As women outnumber men some three to one in this country, it appears the habits of the feminine natives account, at least to a very considerable extent, for the vast number of cigarettes smoked.

It has been estimated that there are at least 4,000,000 slaves in the world.

Only twelve per cent of the operating cost of a car goes toward gasoline.

MANY GIFTS FOR Y.W.C.A. SHOWER

Annual Appeal Yesterday Met With Generous Support

Many friends of the Y.W.C.A. rallied to the support of the institution yesterday afternoon on the occasion of the annual linen shower, leaving behind them tangible tokens of their goodwill in the shape of generous gifts in cash and linen.

Mrs. Arthur Walsh and members of the board welcomed the guests. Tea was served at a dainty table at which Mrs. J. K. Kingham and Miss Agnes Spencer presided, and Mrs. G. Piercy acted as hostess. During the afternoon an enjoyable musical programme arranged by Mrs. Lewis enhanced the social amenities, vocal solos being contributed by Mrs. Claude and Mrs. Borden, and piano solos by Major Watts, Mrs. W. E. Colbeck and Mrs. J. K. Kingham were in charge of the tea arrangements.

Mayor Malkin's Family Has a Narrow Escape

Vancouver, Feb. 26.—A wire to Mayor W. H. Malkin, from San Francisco stated that Mrs. W. H. Malkin, his wife; Miss Leila Malkin, his daughter, and David Cochran, the family chauffeur, narrowly escaped death Saturday afternoon, when their automobile plunged 100 feet down an embankment off a California road.

The Malkins, according to information contained in the wire, were motoring along a soft-shouldered road en route to San Francisco. When Cochran drove near the edge the car slid down the embankment and plied against a tree.

Miss Malkin suffered bruises about the face, but Mrs. Malkin and the chauffeur escaped with a shaking up. The party afterwards proceeded to San Francisco. The Malkins left here last Thursday in his worship's car.

odds On Sharkey Rise As Heavyweight Mix Draws Close

THE SPORTS MIRROR

IT WOULD not be at all surprising if the Campolo and Risko bout stole the show in the "blowdown" being thrown by the Madison Square Garden Corporation at Miami Thursday night. Most of the wisecracks, at least they think they're wisecracks, are of the opinion that Sharkey will put Shufflin' Pull out in a few rounds, probably not more than four. They do not look for a particularly interesting contest, for they figure it will be too one-sided. Quite often when the experts are so convinced on the outcome of a fight an upset occurs, Scott may really have a mystery punch and set the experts on their neckties.

Campolo on the other hand, is a colorful chap, and the looks like a prospect that may be going some where Risko is an enigma of the ring. He puts up a fine battle when it's least expected, and even after he has been beaten, he has a faculty for coming back and up-setting some star who appears to be in ascendancy. Usually Risko does little real training for a bout. He is a fellow of the type of the late Harry Greb, who seemed to thrive on little or no training, but this time Johnny has an incentive. He wants to show up the New York Commission because it refused to let a fight between him and Campolo be staged in New York.

At that it would be a queer twist if he should happen to knock over Campolo. The towering gawky from South America looks like a good prospect. He is intelligent and stands lots of hard walling. Phil Scott didn't beat him by any great margin, and Campolo was green at the time. The Argentine has grown since his last appearance in the United States. To-day he scales around 225 pounds. He is fast for a big fellow and has a terrific wallop to the body. Risko is one of the toughest men in the ring to-day. He bounces in and keeps the other fellow busy all the time. Campolo doesn't know much about infighting, but he does know how to hit with that right hand.

Here's how Campolo and Risko stack up in measurements: Reach, Campolo 82 inches, Risko 72 inches; height, Campolo 6 feet 6 inches, Risko 5 feet 11 inches; weight, Campolo 225 pounds, Risko 185 pounds; age, Campolo 26, Risko 28.

There is a strong possibility that the rules governing the racing for the Harmsworth International Challenge Trophy, for which England and possibly Italy will challenge next summer, will be changed. Under the existing rules, a challenge boat is required to start in every heat of the series before the winner has completed the course, and also to finish within three hours of the winner. It is believed that this rule works hardships on a boat that may be forced out of the race and still be able to be repaired in sufficient time to start in the second heat. The rules automatically force the ill-fated entry to be entirely eliminated after her breakdown, while the winner of the first heat need only to cover the course a second time for retention of the cup.

Specifically, the rule worked out last summer when Marion Curstain's Estelle IV, which had cost almost $100,000, was forced out of the first heat against Gar Wood because of a minor breakdown, who was unable to complete the course in the specified time and the International Series, was automatically taken by Wood. An exhibition race was run a few days later, and her boat completed the thirty-mile heat, but there was no possibility of the British woman scoring against the U.S. defenders.

The New York Daily News is of the opinion that Les Canadiens of Montreal, long known as the "Flying Frenchmen," should be given a new nickname—suggestive of the League of Nations. Their first-round forward line is made up of: Morenz, a Swiss; Joliat, a Frenchman; and Wasmie, a Pole. Back of them on defense are Burke, an Irishman; Mantha, an Italian; and in the nets, Hainsworth, an Englishman.

Pale Gangling Scott Not Expected to Last Over Four Rounds in To-morrow Night's Joust; Main Interest Centres Around Bout Between Campolo and Johnny Risko; Five Countries Will Be Represented in Garden's Show; Crowd of 30,000 Expected to Sit In on Card

By ALAN J. GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

Miami, Fla., Feb. 26.—The sixty-six-ton whale that has been on exhibition along Biscayne Boulevard gives way to-morrow as an attraction to a mere ton of heavyweights. While not a great deal more remains to be said about the proceedings, even by the loquacious manager of Phil Scott, ten assorted big fellows of the ring, collected from five countries but representing eight nationalities altogether, will be tossed into the arena to-morrow evening in the second annual "Battle of the Palms." They will be put on view by the Madison Square Garden Corporation, in winter headquarters here, for the edification of the social aristocrats of the Florida winter colonies and others who may have been persuaded by the balmy air of the ballyhoo to pay from $5.49 to $25 for a peek at the fistie festival.

"Bootleg" Efforts May Be Made To Broadcast Fight

Miami, Fla., Feb. 26.—Although there will be no ringside broadcast of the Scott-Sharkey fight to-morrow night, Madison Square Garden officials are not concerned with what they described to-day as "bootleg" attempts to put the bouts on the air. Nor have they any objection to the Press Association wire being broadcast by the newspapers taking such services.

PROSPECTS NAMED FOR GOLF TEAM

Sixteen British Amateur Golfers Selected as Walker Cup Candidates

Final Selection in Two Weeks; Seven Scottish Players Are Named

London, Feb. 26.—The championship committee of the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews announces that the following players have been asked to hold themselves in readiness to play in the Walker Cup match, starting May 15.

T. A. Bourn (Sunningdale), W. Campbell (Cambuslang), E. Harris (Royal and Ancient), R. W. Hartley (Sunningdale), Major C. O. Hezlet (Royal Portrush), Sir E. W. E. Holderness (Walton Heath), J. A. Lang (Erebus), S. L. McKinley (Alexandra), R. H. Oppenheimer (Royal and Ancient), J. N. Smith (Earlsferry Thistle), J. A. Stout-Bedington, C. J. H. Tolley (Royal and Ancient), T. A. Torrance (Bandy Lodge), Dr. W. Tweedell (Stourbridge), R. H. Wethered (Worplesdon), and J. Wilson (Prestwick St. Nicholas).

The final selection will be made in two weeks. Of the sixteen players named, only eight will play against the United States at Sandwich, and of them eight have already represented their country in the Walker Cup competition. The inclusion of Robert Harris is shrewd, for what he does not know of Royal St. George's is not worth knowing, and Scotland missed his services in the international match there last year. Hartley, Holderness, Hezlet, Wethered, Torrance and the amateur champion select themselves. The inclusion of Bourn is sound, for could he only gain a little certainty on the greens he might win a championship any year, for he is a fine player. Campbell, Lang and McKinley are all fine players, and J. N. Smith gave proof of what was in him in the final of the amateur championship last year. Of the sixteen named players, seven are Scottish, one Irish, and of the English players six are southern players, one hails from the Midlands and one from the north.

Change Grounds For Rugby Games

The University School will battle Victoria College at Mount Tomlin, the Canadian Scottish will clash with the J.B.A. at the Willow, and the Oak Bay Vandervelds will meet the Y.M.C.A. at Oak Bay Park in the intermediate rugby games on Saturday. Jones will referee the first match, Burn the second and Ackland the third. The decision to change grounds for these matches was made at the meeting of the local union last night. The referees' board of the union last night decided to deal exceptionally severely with men hacking players on the ground, and expected to impose heavy penalties on those intentionally hurting opponents.

Prairie Clubs To Advocate Return Of Forward Pass

Regina Roughriders Vote in Favor of Having Pass Retained; Recent Ruling of C.R.U. None Too Pleasing to Western Champions; Calgary Tigers Hard Hit by Latest Ruling; Western Canada Union Expected to Make Determined Effort to Keep Pass in Force

Regina, Sask., Feb. 26.—While the Regina Roughriders, champions of the west for the last four years, are keenly disappointed over the deletion of the new forward pass from Canadian football, Manager Fred Wilson pointed out that the decision of the C.R.U. rules committee will hit the Calgary Tigers harder than any other club on the prairies.

"Given a tryout in the west last fall, the forward pass was turned to good account by the Tigers, who scored several crushing victories in Alberta through Gerry Seiberling's long hoists," said Wilson. "In the western final with Regina, the Tigers were up against a better team and failed to make the grade, but it has been an open secret that they are going out after the western title in real style next fall, and I imagine the inside pass would again have proved their most formidable weapon."

The Roughriders' mentor is of the opinion that if the forward pass is barred by the C.R.U. it should be discarded also in all provincial competition, even if permission to employ the aerial thrust were granted by the Dominion body.

"There's no sense in going through the greater part of the season with the chance to use it in the playoffs," he pointed out.

He added, however, that he did not think the matter had ended. The Western Canada Union is certain to make a determined effort to have the rules committee change its decision and keep the pass in force next fall.

At their annual meeting a few days ago, the Roughriders instructed their secretary to write a letter to the Saskatchewan Rugby Union to the effect that the Regina club favors the forward pass and wants it retained. The Riders did not employ the pass during their campaign in the west last fall, but blossomed forth with an aerial attack in the Dominion final in Hamilton that helped them hold the famed Tigers to a 14-3 victory. The recent decision of the rules committee is therefore none too pleasing to the local griders.

England In Bad Way In Cricket Match With W.I.

Georgetown, British Guiana, Feb. 26.—England was in a bad way in the cricket test match with West Indies at the end of yesterday's play. With seven wickets in hand they required 514 runs to avert defeat. The scores were: West Indies 471 and 290, aggregate 761; England 145 and 102 for three wickets, aggregate 247. Yesterday took his innings to 112, thus completing two centuries in the same game, the first time a West Indian batsman has scored two separate centuries in a test match.

EX-KING GEORGE RUGGERS TO PLAY SCOTTISH HERE

Ex-King George seniors, crack mainland rugby squad, will battle the Canadian Scottish here on either March 8 or March 15. It was learned from Captain Coventry, president of the Victoria Rugby Union, this morning. The match will be purely an exhibition but will act as a pastime game for the militiamen in preparation for the Rounsell Cup series which they have entered. Arrangements are being made to secure the Royal Athletic Park for the match.

FIELDING CONFIDENT

Local Fighter Hopes to Gain Second Victory Over Eddie Herman

Eddie Herman, Seattle fighter who is billed to show here Saturday night in a ten-round main event against Tommy Fielding, local lightweight, is favored in some circles to reverse the decision over the Victoria boy.

Father who saw Herman in action here a short time ago figure, with his added experience and his active campaign in coast cities, that he will outpoint Fielding. In the local camp confidence reigns supreme. Fielding defeated Herman before and since that time he has won the call over Leslie "Wildcat" Carter, sensational Seattle negro.

The local boy is training hard for the coming match, and if for any reason he drops the verdict it will not be because he is in poor condition.

Tickets started to move yesterday, and may be secured at Two Jacks Dope, Government Street, Empire Cigar Stand, Douglas Street, and F. B. Richardson's, 735 Yates Street.

Vancouver Making Supreme Effort To Get Olympic Trials

Vancouver, Feb. 26.—Vancouver will try to get the Canadian Olympic trials in June, 1932, Mayor W. H. Malkin stated yesterday. The 1932 games will be held in Los Angeles, California. "We have everything in our favor," the Mayor said to a group of newspapermen. "We are near Los Angeles. We have a perfect climate. We are the largest city on the Canadian Pacific Coast. All we need is an organization which will stimulate sport to white heat between now and 1932. "Public interest in the idea must be aroused, though. If it is to succeed," the Mayor declared.

"We need not worry about the money," he continued. "The City Council has already earmarked $15,000 to put the oval at Hastings Park into shape. Any more money which is needed for publicity, for engaging a coach, and for primary events leading up to the trials will be subscribed without difficulty."

Ottawa Wins Out In Overtime and Catch Canadiens

Two Clubs Now Tied for Second Place in Canadian Section of N.H.L.; Americans Display Great Spirit in Turning on Flying Frenchmen for 4-2 Victory; Finnegan Nets Both of Senators' Goals; Boston Bruins in Workout Snow Under Pittsburgh 7-0

Canadian Press

New York, Feb. 26.—The New York Americans have made many friends among National hockey fans by refusing to be licked no matter how badly they were beaten, and the never-say-die spirit prevailed again yesterday evening. Coming back after four defeats by Canadiens of Montreal, they beat the same team 4-2. Thus, with a thrilling 2-0 overtime triumph by Ottawa over Toronto, a tie between the Senators and Canadiens for second place in the Canadian group was brought about.

Yankee Catchers Fail to Grab One Ball From Plane

St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 26.—The New York Yankees' catching staff has one consolation—none of the fouls of the 1930 season will be as hard to snare as are baseballs dropped from an aeroplane. All of the club's receivers, Bengough, Dickey, Hargrave, Jorgens and Karlon, tried their hand at this interesting pastime yesterday. An aeroplane flew 350 feet above the camp and its passenger tossed out baseballs while the catchers took turns trying to catch them. Not one was caught.

Recovering from their four-game slump, the Chicago Black Hawks shut out the Montreal Maroons 2 to 0 and brought a stimulant to the American division. Their rivals, the New York Rangers, were idle.

Two players, one from New York and one from Ottawa, ran away with the honors in the Canadian group struggles. George Patterson, who started the year as a third string forward with the Americans, tallied three of the four goals in the uphill fight that brought New York the victory. A sturdy defence did the rest. At Ottawa, Frankie Finnegan sent two goals past Toronto goalie, Lorne Chabot, only twenty seconds apart, to win the game in overtime period. Chicago's defence played the leading role in giving the Black Hawks a clean sweep for the season over the Maroons. The fourth of yesterday evening's games was just as easy workout for the champion Boston Bruins. They beat Pittsburgh 7-0.

VICTORIA XV WINNERS IN CUP GAME

Defeat Oak Bay High Fifteen 12-0 in Match on Home Grounds Yesterday

Victoria Team Led 6-0 at Half-time; Individual Work Wins Match

Victoria High School's 150-pound rugby team yesterday afternoon met and defeated the Oak Bay High School in a Cowichan Cup match played at Victoria High School, by a score of 12-0. Both teams showed signs of long inactivity and did not handle the ball with much accuracy. Victoria's first score came ten minutes after the start, Luttrell serving through the Oak Bay team until he reached the twenty-five yard line to score between the posts. Fetch had luck with the kick, which hit the post and bounced the wrong way. Scott picked the ball in the loose shortly after and raced from about centre down to the left side of the field to score the winners' second try. The half ended with the winners leading 6-0. Oak Bay showed better organization and were better in the scrum and kicking departments but lacked the offence. Victoria scored the third try of the game and was followed shortly after by Scott, who scored his second try. Victoria High School, with practice, should go a long way in the series.

Two Lower Island Hoop Titles Won By Duncan

Red Birds Only Victoria Team To Win Bunting

Y.M.C.A. Lose Men's Senior "B" Title to Duncan by Lone Point; Loss of Engleson and Rowlands in Second Half on "Personals" Wrecks Local Team's Chances; Red Birds Find No Trouble Beating Weakened Duncan Women's Quintette; Royals Lose in Overtime

Although they won their game yesterday evening, 24-13, against Duncan, the local Y.M.C.A. lost the Lower Island senior "B" basketball championship in the home and home series by a total score of 46-45. When the final whistle blew the scoreboard in the gallery at the High School gym read 25-13, and many of the spectators thought the local boys had tied up the series, but the official score was 24-13. The Red Birds had little trouble defeating the weakened Duncan women's five 22-12, taking the Lower Island honors by a 44-33 score. The Victoria Royals put up a great battle in the junior boys' final, and when the regulation game came to a close were leading 21-17, which tied up the series at 41 all. In the overtime period Duncan scored four points, while the locals just managed to collect two.

The senior men's game started off at a great pace, with Fletcher opening the scoring when he counted with a foul shot. Harry Talbot added a field goal, while John Craig scored the first point for the "Y" on a free shot. Acres tied up the count when he sank a pretty shot from well out, while Rowlands duplicated to give the locals the lead. From this time on the "Y" were never headed, and they played good ball. John Drom scored the next point on a foul shot, while Engleson rolled in a basket from a rebound. The same boy scored one of the two shots awarded when he was fouled in the act of shooting, while Acres sank a nice basket right from the tip-off. Engleson scored another free shot, while Craig added a field goal to finish the scoring for the first half and to give the local boys the long end of a 13-4 score at the rest interval.

ENGLESON GOES OFF
The "Y" went out in the second half determined to regain the remainder of the twelve-point lead, but they received a great shock when Engleson committed his fourth personal foul and was forced to retire. Drom made the shot good. Harry Talbot scored from close in, while Lawson collected a foul point. Rowlands then fouled MacDonald, and he followed his teammate to the bench. The Duncan skipper missed the shot. Craig scored on a technical foul, when Duncan players entering the game decided there was something the locals were not doing. Talbot counted with a long shot, to bring the visitors' total up to nine, while Craig added another foul to make the local score sixteen. Acres and Patterson then scored baskets to cut Duncan's home and home lead to one point. MacDonald and Talbot regained four of these points when they scored from well out. Craig added two field baskets just before the final whistle, and when the time-keeper's signal for the end of the game sounded he still had a free throw to attempt. John had been shooting fouls straight all evening, but fate stepped in and he missed the all-important one.

CRAIG OUTSTANDING
John Craig was the outstanding player on the floor, checking, passing and shooting well, and his nine points were sufficient to lead the scoring parade. Harry Talbot collected eight points for Duncan, while John Drom played a great game at guard.
Alan Lemarquand refereed.
The teams and individual scorers follow:
Duncan—MacDonald 2, McNeil 1, Talbot 8, Talbot 8, Fletcher 1, McEwan 2, Drom 2, Kyle 4, Drom 6.
Y.M.C.A.—Acres 6, Lawson 1, Patterson 2, Craig 9, Engleson 4, Bagley, Rowlands 2, and Ruttan.

Weakness by the absence of the "stock" stars, the Duncan women did not put up the game expected, and went down to a 22-12 defeat. The Red Birds gained an 8-4 lead in the first half, with Jessie Edwards scoring six points and Toria Rennie collecting the other basket. Ina Castley scored the Duncan points with one field basket and two fouls.
In the second half the Red Birds increased this lead, with Berta Peden scoring six points, Toria Rennie four and K. Welburn and Biddy Boyce two apiece. Rita Weeks, Kay MacDonald and U. Fletcher counted for the victors.

Tommy Forbes refereed.
The teams and individual scorers follow:
Duncan—R. Weeks 3, K. MacDonald 3, U. Fletcher 2, I. Castley 4, J. Weeks 4, and Coll.
Red Birds—T. Rennie 6, B. Peden 6, M. Wilson, K. Welburn 2, M. Motion, J. Edwards 6, D. Lea, C. Atherton and B. Boyce.

With two minutes left to play in the junior game the score read seventeen all. Goldsmith, star forward for the Royals, then sank two long shots to tie up the series. Had this same boy been as accurate with his short shots as he was with his long efforts there would have been no need for an overtime.
In the extra period Pitt and Mottishaw scored the points which sent the junior title away from Victoria for the first time, while Goldsmith added the two points for the locals.
Bob Whyte refereed.
The teams and individual scorers follow:
Duncan—Pitt 6, Evans 4, Mottishaw 6, Smythe 1, Dickie and Baker 4.
Royals—Goldsmith 13, Caddell, Bradley 4, Clarke 2, Taylor, Roberts, and Preston 4.

Meanwell Devises Weaving Offence
One of the most difficult attacks to break up is the short pass and cut attack that was originally developed by Dr. Walter Meanwell at Wisconsin. Three men are used to advance the ball into position for a try for basket. They are in no motion all the while. The idea took root in Montana and has been a factor in the play of that state's university five. Let us analyze it. No. 1 has the ball and as he runs toward No. 2 to circle around him to the rear he makes a short pass to No. 2, who is in motion toward the opposite side of the court. No. 2 likewise passes to No. 3.

These three men weave down court as shown in the diagram, exchanging possession of the ball by short, fast passes, each in turn making a half circle to again receive it. It is a difficult type of offense to break up. Tomorrow—the cut back cross over attack.

The Night When Spider Kelly Won the Lightweight Championship of Nevada

Spider Kelly and I, lifelong pals, were a couple of sprouts when the Pit-simmons-Corbett fight was held in Carson City, Nevada. We pooled our resources, went there in style, but everything we had on Corbett to win and lost.

We rode the rods to Reno, then, as now, the "biggest little city in the country." There, in front of a little theatre, we saw this sign: "Kid Thomas, lightweight champion of Nevada, will give $25 to any man who sticks with him six rounds." "Here's where we eat," said the Spider.

We went to the theatre manager and I told him Spider would meet the champ. The manager was dubious. The Spider always looked lean and frail. "Ever boxed before, Bub?" the showman asked. "A little," said Spider. "We were booked. That night the showman warned Spider to be careful; Thomas hit like a triphammer," he said.

Thomas rushed out like a bull. The Spider set for him and almost upset the champ with a straight left and a right cross. Then the Spider kept Thomas missing.

In the second, Kelly floored Thomas. Instead of returning to the fray, the champ dragged himself out of the ring. Kelly ran to drag him back into the ring. But Thomas ran to the side of the stage and climbed a ladder. Kelly followed.

The house was in an uproar. The champ running out. Thomas kicking down the ladder at Kelly. Spider trying to grab Thomas's feet. Kelly finally tore off one of Thomas's shoes. And Thomas jumped from front door—Kelly still after him.

After I caught Spider and enticed him back, the showman said he wouldn't pay; that we ruined his attraction. "Say, we did it because we were hungry!" the Spider yelled. "I'll give you one minute to make up your mind. If you don't pay, I'll bite a hunk right out of you!"

The manager paid. And we ate steaks with onions.

Frank Patrick Turns Deaf Ear To Esks Protest

Vancouver, Feb. 26.—Frank Patrick, president of the Pacific Coast Hockey League, will not entertain Seattle's protest of a game at Portland in which the Seattle officials said rulings of Michel Ion, referee, caused them to lose a 3-1 decision.

"Some time ago," said Mr. Patrick, "I instructed Ion to impose heavier penalties whenever, in his opinion, a contest reached a stage of feverishness where play became unduly rough or injury to players might ensue.

"In the past, moreover, Ion has, at times, given minor penalties when the rules actually called for major punishment. I feel that Ion's action in Portland was, no doubt, justified by the circumstances and I will not sustain Seattle's appeal.

"They, of course, can appeal this ruling to the league board of governors if they wish."

Los Angeles, Feb. 26.—Eddie Mack of Denver was awarded an unpopular ten-round decision here yesterday over Maurice Holtzer, junior lightweight, of France.

Mike Turnesa And Cooper Leading In Florida Tournament

Orlando, Fla., Feb. 26.—The smooth par-shattering golf of Mike Turnesa, Elmford, N.Y., and the fast finish of "Lighthorse" Harry Cooper, Los Angeles, gave them 68 to lead the pack of sixty-three golfers half way in the $20,000 Central Florida thirty-hole open tournament here yesterday.

Turnesa scored two 34s, each one stroke under the mark. Cooper developed par golf in the out-bound nine with a 35, but scurried back to the clubhouse with a 33 to tie for first place.

Horton Smith, debonair shot maker from Detroit, seemed headed for a triple tie for first honors as he came to the ninth green, but a tiny tuft of grass forced an extra putt for a 69.

At Watrous, Detroit, who played with Smith and Johnny Farrell, former U.S. open champion, had a 35 and 34, but after play was completed, the judges gave Watrous a penalty stroke, running his score up to 70.

Chris Langdron and Johnny Duffy, two fighters from the Victoria Boxing Club, journeyed to Port Angeles yesterday and engaged in two draws.

In a six-round affair Langdron gained a draw with Martin Lee, while Duffy went four rounds to a draw with Don Sealsman.

Mets Win Close Game From Cards
In a basketball game played yesterday evening in the gymnasium at the Memorial Hall the Mets defeated the Cardinals 28-23 after an exciting game. At half-time the Mets were leading 16-9. Caddell and Perry led the Mets' scorers' bench with eight points.

The team and individual scorers follow:
Mets—Caddell 8, Thompson 4, Perry 4, Laird 3 and Parkin.

Cardinals—Wallace 8, Holdridge 6, Perry 4, McLennan, Wensley and Baker 2.

Bobby Jones On Golf

Some Golf Resolutions to Remember in Spring Practice

The most trying time of the year for the golfer is always the time when he comes out of hibernation and begins to try to tune his game back to a point where he can again enjoy it. After a long winter lay-off, each club feels like a broom handle and each ball when struck transmits a shock up the shaft which makes the player think he has hit a lump of iron. Golf is not much fun during this period, but it is a thing we must endure to enjoy the pleasures beyond.

Any man would be grateful, I believe, for any hints which would help him to get through this "tuning up" period with as little suffering as possible. While all of us do not have the same troubles and have to apply the same correctives when we are playing more or less regularly, I have noticed that at least the people with whom I play manifest much the same tendencies when suffering from lack of practice. Apparently golfing muscles lose a great deal in elasticity and responsiveness when not in use, and these when unaccustomed to perform such functions, act upon demand in very much the same way for all individuals.

LENGTHEN THE BACKSWING
The first failure is in the length of the backswing. It is not hard to detect in any case a tendency to shorten the backward motion and whip the club back to the ball almost before it has reached the shoulder position. This is one way in which lack of assurance is manifested, the player being actually afraid to let himself out as far as he would if extended to mid-summer form.

The second failing in part results from the first, although it is attributable also to the fact that the winter lay-off impairs the player's sense of timing. This sense is entirely dependent upon practice, and when one fails to practice, he must lose the rhythm of the stroke. But it will be noted that in the spring the error is always on the fast side. No one ever swings too slowly.

The third common tendency is to attempt to lift the ball instead of striking it firmly downward. This, I think, is due to a slack left hand and wrist. The player is not quite certain that he has done everything correctly and he reaches the ball with the feeling that he perhaps ought to turn back to try it over again. He then either slackens his grip or "pulls" the punch and spoils the shot.

WATCH FOR FAULTS
These are not all of sorrows encountered during the first few rounds of spring, but they are those most commonly experienced. If we could start out on the lookout for them and promptly put them away our days in purgatory would be lessened considerably. Let us resolve then that in the coming spring we will swing back slowly, that we will swing back far enough—even farther than we think necessary—that we will grip firmly with the left hand, and that we will punch briskly through the ball. If we will do and remember these few things it won't be long before we will find the groove.

My own experience each year is somewhat tantamounting. From the onset of the amateur championship until warm weather comes again I usually play only three or four rounds, sometimes with as much as two months intervening between successive attempts. On these occasions I go out relaxed and with very little concern about the results I am able to obtain. Then I play fairly well. But when spring draws near and I begin to play a bit more often, I find myself doing the very things I mentioned above. The first round, when nothing much is expected is not so bad, but after that the trouble begins.

McLarnin on Short End of Betting In Bout With Mandell

Chicago, Feb. 25.—Although defeated in his last fight with Jimmy McLarnin, Vancouver, B.C., welterweight, Sammy Mandell to-day was a maid favorite to win their third encounter Saturday night at the Chicago stadium.

The boys who supported Mandell when he was outpointed by the baby-faced Irishman at the Stadium last fall, still think Mandell, when "right," can beat McLarnin as he did in New York a year ago last summer. Both have almost finished strenuous training, with Mandell planning to enter the ring at 137 pounds and McLarnin at 143, two pounds under the agreed poundage.

Purvis Outpoints Chicago Welter
Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 25.—Jackie Purvis, Toronto, welterweight, outpointed George Kerwin of Chicago in a ten-round bout here yesterday evening.

Purvis was the aggressor. Kerwin's best round was the second when he knocked Purvis down for a 10 count.

This Week to Bring New Prince Henry to Coast

K. liner Arizona Maru, which docked at the Rithet pier at 1 o'clock after a dull and damp passage from Yokohama. Capt. T. Yamaguchi, master of the ship, said his ship missed the storm while held other ships back, but that much rain was encountered in mid-Pacific. There was very little sunshine all the way across from Yokohama, the captain said. All aboard the Arizona were out on deck to-day enjoying the sunshine: as the ship came up the Straits from Cape Flattery to her dock

There were thirty-seven passengers in all classes aboard the Arizona. Eleven steerage passengers left the ship here, including one British woman. Mrs. S. C. Campbell, returning from a sojourn in the Orient. All the others were Japanese and were en route to interior parts of the Province. Three Japanese first cabin passengers and twelve others were en route to the coast in Victoria.

Cargo aboard the ship was fair. For Victoria there were 108 tons of general freight, while for Seattle there were 2,069 tons of general, including 1,053 bales of raw silk and eleven cases of Japanese gold coins.

Capt. H. E. Neidden, veteran master with the Canadian National Steamship Company Limited on the British Columbia mail, will leave Vancouver on Saturday for England where he will remain until the completion of the new steamer "Prince Henry," first of three new steamships for the Canadian National service on the "big" coast.

He is well known on the British Columbia coast, and has many friends among the fishermen, having been a regular visitor here several years. Prince Rupert and Prince George are anxious to have him to this port. During recent years the steamer Princess of Wales has been the steamer of choice for the fishermen of Prince George, plying to and from Vancouver during the summer months.

the winter. Capt. Neuen has recently been ill and the trip which he will commence on Saturday is expected to benefit his health. Mrs. Neuen will accompany him, and together they will sail from Halifax on March 10 aboard the liner Doric.

Change-Trade-mark-Buying-Wants

...change

A NEW BABY FOOD is brought out that saves tired mothers many minutes in preparation at night feeding.

An old nationally-known automobile manufacturer comes out with an eight within a new price range.

A maker of refrigerators for more than half a century suddenly is able to lower his prices because of increased volume production.

What are their names? Where'll we find them? . . .

Every day in the advertisements you will find new changes, new methods, new products that will interest you—save your money—increase your ability to enjoy life.

Get the habit of reading advertisements regularly. You'll find every-day news of importance addressed to you.

For advertisements can affect you vitally. Watch them! They'll increase your spending money and tell you where you can buy most economically the articles you need.

Buying for Contentment

IT IS not uncommon to buy something that momentarily attracts your attention and to scold yourself afterwards for buying it. . . .

Advertising helps you to use your family budget carefully—wisely—and saves you from after-regrets.

Day by day, in the advertisements of this paper, you see the worth-while enduring products spread before you.

Knowing them before you buy—you are able to judge intelligently your needs. Never are you rushed into buying; into having first—and scolding afterwards—

Advertising gives you honest information before you buy. You have a reliable guide and index to help you plan your purchases wisely and carefully—taking full advantage of day-to-day opportunities and sales!

Read the advertisements every day! You will find that they make your money go farther—and that you will be satisfied with your purchases long after you have bought!

The Trade-mark

OLD SILVERSMITHS, in order to help people tell pure silver from cheaper imitations, marked the real thing "sterling."

In a like manner, manufacturers, who stand back of their wares, identify them with trade-marks that are your guarantee of quality. By advertising these trade-marks, they focus on their products the searchlight of attention.

Only good goods, fairly priced, can flourish in this light of publicity. For no merchandise and no business can thrive under the weight of public condemnation.

That is why a manufacturer, or a merchant, places the whole reputation of his business at stake every time he advertises. His goods must be as advertised.

So, in looking through this paper, remember this: the man who spends his money to invite your consideration of his wares backs up his belief in his goods and leaves the final decision to you.

It pays you to read the advertisements. It pays you to buy advertised products.

Wants Make the Man

BABIES are born with but one want—food. When men grow old, their wants again become few—quiet corners, friendly faces, peace.

But in the years between, men and women are living and developing to the full extent of their powers. Then their wants are legion.

People to-day are wanting and getting more things that make for complete living than ever before. To these common needs of every one the advertisements in this newspaper bring invaluable opportunities of satisfaction every day.

It is the function of the advertisements to enable you not only to get what you want—but to get the very best that your money can buy. They help you to decide which automobile, which set of furniture, which radio to buy. They assure you that your wants will be more than met—that they will be wisely and completely satisfied.

The Minutes You Spend in Reading the Advertisements May Bring You Years of Satisfaction

CRESTON WORK PROCEDURE IS AGAIN SCORED

Pattullo Questions Many Ministers on Method of Advancing Money

The $65,000 Creston Waterworks contract again ran the gauntlet in the Legislature yesterday, with T. D. Pattullo, leader of the opposition, and A. M. Manson, K.C., again pressing for information on what method was followed in advancing the money to the Creston Water Board to have the work performed on a cost plus basis.

After questioning in turn the Minister of Agriculture, the Minister of Lands, who was acting Minister of Agriculture at the time, the Attorney-General and Premier Tolmie, Mr. Pattullo at last secured the information from Mr. Pooley who left the House for a time, that the Land Settlement Board made the advance.

There was a difference of opinion on the legality of the procedure so validating legislation had since been brought down, Mr. Pooley said. With other ministers he defended the action taken, and claimed that the same policy had been followed by the previous administration on Sumas development, and on the University Building.

Mr. Pattullo questioning also elicited the information that Col. Fred Lister, Conservative member for Creston, is chairman of the Water Board, and R. A. Hunt is the Land Settlement Board is a member of the Water Board. It was remarkable, said Mr. Pattullo, that previously the Minister of Agriculture had no knowledge of the contract given to the former partner of the Minister of Lands, yet it was now disclosed that a member of his own staff had been the one to advance the Water Board, apparently to protect the government's investment.

SPREADS HIS QUESTIONS

Hon. William Atkinson countered Mr. Pattullo's question as to how the money was obtained from the treasury: "How do you get money out of anything?" The work was well done, he claimed, and the settlers needed the water. Hon. W. C. Shelly questioned on the same point, and the minister to Mr. Atkinson, Mr. Pattullo then asked the Prime Minister if the money was given with the authority of the Comptroller-General, a former employee of Mr. Shelly, and appointed by him, and the Premier in turn defended the expenditure, but confessed he did not know the details by which the money was made available.

"I say if the Comptroller-General paid the money out without statute authority he violated his oath of office," said Mr. Pattullo.

Mr. Pattullo then put the question to Mr. Pooley who countered by saying one of the schemes adopted by the former government was followed. He did not know which one. Hon. Joshua Hinchcliffe occupied the floor with references to acts of the previous administration, while Mr. Pooley left the House and later returned with the information that it was advanced by the Land Settlement Board. Opinion was divided as to the legality of the proceedings so validating legislation was now presented.

Mr. Manson remarked it was a dangerous precedent. Mr. Pattullo thought if the Comptroller-General had authority over money going out in such a manner it was time he had. The Minister of Mines wound up the argument with a defence of the government's action. He also mentioned that it was fourteen years since the contractor was a partner of the Minister of Lands. The government had nothing to hide, and they only sought legislation to validate a technicality. Col. Fred Lister rose to the support of the contractor, claiming the work was well done, and the settlers in the district got the advantage of the job.

WHEAT STOCKS PILE UP ASDO CARRYING COSTS

Huge Canadian Carry-over
Built Up Over Last Five Years

Toronto, Feb. 25.—One of the fairly obvious things about the present wheat situation is that the difficulty of disposing of the wheat crop of 1929 at a fairly low price is associated with the very large carry-over of wheat from the previous year which was carried into the 1929-30 season, in the opinion of The Financial Post, Toronto.

That fact is in practically everyone's mind, but what is less frequently realized is that the carry-over in question did not originate in the big crop of 1928, but was to a very large extent the inheritance of previous years.

The official government figures of the carry-over for successive years as at July 31 are as follows:

OFFICIAL CANADIAN CARRY-OVER

Year	Bushels
July 31, 1929	134,427,327
July 31, 1928	77,626,671
July 31, 1927	40,765,435
July 31, 1926	35,601,194
July 31, 1925	26,482,692

That table of figures does not include all the unstocked Canadian wheat at the date in question, for it does not include stocks of grain in the United States. If those quantities, which are officially on record, are added to the above, it is found that the real carry-over of Canadian grain was approximately as follows:

Bushels

July 31, 1929	130,000,000
July 31, 1928	93,000,000
July 31, 1927	58,000,000
July 31, 1926	40,000,000
July 31, 1925	33,000,000

Building up that huge carry-over has been a costly business not only because of the depressing effect it has recently had upon wheat prices, but because of the interest and storage charges which have had to be paid out year to year to carry the grain, say the Post. And still more important the fact that it has been accumulated on a market declining from year to year.

To what extent the carry-over from last year has been a depressing factor in this year's prices cannot be exactly calculated, but the figures above indicate that the difficulty in question did not come suddenly upon us, but has been long in accumulating.

SAANICH HAS NEW SYSTEM FOR ROADWORK

Council Abolishes Wards and Creates Four Works Districts

Lower Fire Insurance Expected to Follow Increase in Fire Staff

The public works system of Saanich was revolutionized yesterday evening by the municipal council. The old ward system of organization was abolished, and hereafter the work will be directed by four foremen.

Wards Two and Seven will be in charge of Foreman Willetton. Wards One and Three will be combined under Foreman Castello, the third district will include all of Ward Four and one-half of Ward Five, with Foreman Pridmore in charge, and Ward Six, with the northern part of Ward Five will be supervised by Foreman E. W. Nimmo.

TO LOWER INSURANCE
The council appointed J. Little as municipal building sanitary and plumbing inspector, his position as fire chief being filled by promotion of B. Locke. Employment of an additional fireman was authorized. In expectation of the Fire Underwriters' Association will accord lower rates to certain areas, offered last year by D. A. S. McGregor, Vancouver Island manager. If the personnel of the staff were increased.

NEW TRUCK
The council decided to add a one-sixth ton truck to the public works equipment, and will accept bids. A number of old vehicles will be sold, and bidders on the new machine will be required to specify the exchange allowance granted.

A policy of charging the cost of haulage will be established, to set up equipment replacement fund independent of current revenue.

OPPOSITION OF MARKET ACT GIVES VIEWS

Creates Trouble For Potato Growers at Every Turn, L. F. Hornby Tells Committee

Objections of some of the potato growers in the lower Fraser Valley to the Market Act were heard by the Agriculture Committee of the Legislature this morning with L. F. Hornby, the chief spokesman, telling the committee that the act was creating more trouble in the valley than any political campaign ever did.

"It is of no value," he said emphatically. "It creates trouble every way you turn. It has caused two years of trouble and expense. If more frank legislation of this kind passes we shall have conditions like you find in Virginia and Kentucky with perpetual feuds between neighbors. Too much authority is invested in a committee of one man for two members of the committee are passed. It is too drastic for one man to have so much power."

On the question of grading Mr. Hornby doubted if the Provincial Legislature had power to bring in regulations governing grading which superseded those of the Dominion Government.

He quoted specific instances to support his arguments that the potato committee's activities injured the farmers. The committee had set prices too high, he claimed. A farmer was not allowed to dig his own potatoes when he wanted to. Speaking of the time when George F. Challenger was chairman of the committee he said the committee did not even permit the farmer to haul his own potatoes or specify a neighbor should get the job. "Conditions became so intolerable we broke away," he said. He also protested the growers were shouldered with a $10,000 debt created when Mr. Challenger was in charge. As Mr. Challenger was put in the position by the government and not chosen by the growers he claimed the government should shoulder the debt.

ROTARIANS HERE LISTEN TO SILVER JUBILEE BROADCAST

Washington Celebration Relayed Over National Broadcasting Company's System

A number of Victoria Rotarians assembled at Fletcher Bros' musical store this morning to hear the broadcast of a spectacular Rotary celebration from Washington, D.C. in honor of the Silver Jubilee of Rotary International.

The local Rotary Club members were the guests of Jas. H. Fletcher, past president of the club, at the radio gathering. The event was broadcast over the N.B.C. network.

President Eugene Newton of the International Rotary Club Association, presided at the Washington ceremony. The guests included one of the most impressive gatherings of statesmen, diplomats and civic leaders ever assembled in Washington. The programme was broadcast to Europe and the United States through the special short-wave transmitter operated by Station WGY of Schenectady.

Mr. Irwin, in enthusiastic and glowing terms, described Victoria as the most charming spot on the North American continent. Victoria, he said, could be made just what its citizens wanted it to be. It was hard to believe, he said, that Victorians really appreciated their own city.

Mr. S. L. Howe, provincial secretary, Mayor Herbert Anscomb and Reeve W. Crouch of Saanich, were among the guests at the luncheon gathering which listened to Mr. Irwin's talk with deep interest and heard him tell of the reputation which this city enjoys in the United States. "It was an inspiration to me this morning to come out of your wonderful Empress Hotel, to view the beautiful landscape and to feel the invigoration of the climate. Is it any wonder that people speak with such great admiration of this city? I have never heard a word raised in anything but praise of Victoria," he said.

Mr. Irwin recalled a visit to this city thirty-three years ago when he obtained a souvenir programme of Queen Victoria's Jubilee, which he carried ever since as a memento of this charming city.

"If my business and other circumstances would permit it I would consider it a privilege to live in this glorious city," he added.

HOSPITALITY COMMITTEE
Mr. Irwin referred to a suggestion made at the meeting by T. G. Fay, executive secretary of the organization, that Victoria should form a hospitality committee such as is in operation in Portland. If the people of Victoria felt their city would progress through their own spirit, energy and enterprise they would take up this suggestion to welcome visitors to the city, he said.

"Reading your newspapers, I noticed you spent $25,000 or $30,000 a year on publicity. That's good—but it's not enough," he declared.

"Moreover, if you spend this sum of money to bring over 400,000 people to your city in a year, why turn your backs on them when they do come here. Welcome them with open arms."

BASIC INDUSTRY
Mr. Irwin discussed problems affecting the realtors. He termed real estate the greatest basic industry on the American continent. The fact that people were indifferent to real estate opportunities for investment and profit in real estate was, he suggested, the fault of the realtor, improper selling by the real estate men in the past seemed responsible for this condition.

Real estate dealing to-day was an exact science, Mr. Irwin continued. Thirty-five years ago there was not a textbook on the subject. Now a standard library was available. Through the real estate associations the standard of the work was being raised through improvement of the code of ethics. The ultimate aim was to put real estate where it rightfully belonged among the professions. The first step had been made by making it necessary for a realtor to obtain a license. The future aim was to make it just as difficult for a man to get into the real estate business as it was to get into any one of the other honored professions.

"Let us perform our duty with square dealing and be proud of the position we occupy. There are men far above the average in real estate work; men who are millionaires, who have great earning power and great vision," he added.

The greatest problem facing not only the realtor, but the whole nation was that of the increasing taxation burden on property, Mr. Irwin continued. The situation amounted to almost confiscation in some parts of the northwest at the present time, he said.

"The reason this has come about is because real estate is a tangible asset. It was easy to load with taxes."

One was forced to the realization, however, that it was not the realtor who suffered from this heavy taxation, but the property owner.

CO-OPERATION NEEDED
"Our association is now trying to find some means whereby the situation can be remedied and the first step is to form a property owners' division. By getting the owners interested you will obtain the co-operation and power which will make it necessary for legislators to make a change in this condition. We all realize that the problem is a very serious situation for if the burden of taxation on land is relieved a substitute means of raising money must be found, and the whole question requires a great deal of careful consideration."

Mr. Irwin urged that the Victoria board should soon take active steps in forming a property owners' division to make progress along these lines.

Major Cuthbert Holmes moved a vote of thanks to the speaker.

Mr. Fay spoke briefly, outlining the work done by the hospitality committee of the Portland Chamber of Commerce to the city, and its possibilities and in possibly selling him real estate. Victoria might well follow out a programme of this nature, he suggested.

Patrick Philip, deputy minister of public works, will give an illustrated lecture on Tuesday next, in Amphion Hall, his subject being "The Old Cariboo Road." The lecture is being given under the auspices of the Royal Society of St. George. The meeting will be open to the public and pioneers are particularly invited to attend. The lecture, which will commence at 8 o'clock, will be preceded by community singing.

DEATH OF LOCAL INSURANCE MAN

James R. B. More, Manager of Monarch Life Co., Died To-day

One of the prominent younger business men of the city passed away this morning after a long illness. He was the son of the late James R. B. More, who for the last six years local manager of the Monarch Life Assurance Company.

Born in Scotland, Mr. More served overseas during the war, being promoted to lieutenant in the Machine Gun Corps for efficient service. He was in the bank before entering business several years before entering the life insurance profession. He was regarded as one of the most popular members of the fraternity and was elected president of the Victoria and Island Underwriters' Association in 1926 after serving a term as secretary.

He leaves a widow and two children at the time of his death. The funeral will be held from the Sands Funeral Parlour on Saturday afternoon, with interment in the Royal Oak Cemetery.

William Stubbs To Seek Seat On Saanich Council
William Stubbs of Cedar Hill Road this morning announced that he will seek election to the Saanich Council. Ward Three on the Saanich Council. At the recent municipal elections he was defeated by the late Councillor G. F. Watson. For several years Mr. Stubbs sat on the council as the representative of Ward Four.

HAS GREAT PRAISE FOR THIS CITY

W. A. Irwin, President of Northwest Realtors, Speaks of Victoria's Charm

Need For Relief of Land From Taxation Is Emphasized

"Where under the sun could you find such a glorious day as this except in Victoria?" asked W. A. Irwin, president of the Pacific Northwest Association of Real Estate Boards, in an address before the Victoria Real Estate Board at the Chamber of Commerce to-day.

Mr. Irwin, in enthusiastic and glowing terms, described Victoria as the most charming spot on the North American continent. Victoria, he said, could be made just what its citizens wanted it to be. It was hard to believe, he said, that Victorians really appreciated their own city.

Late E. R. John Lived in Saanich For Sixty Years

One of the best known pioneers of Saanich passed away to-day in the person of Edwin Richard John of Mount Newton Cross Road. He had resided in the district for sixty years. The late Mr. John was born in St. John's, Nfld., in 1864 and came to Saanich when three years of age, residing there almost continuously ever since. He leaves to mourn his loss his widow, one son, Charles at the family residence and one daughter, Mrs. Wilfred Harrison of Victoria.

The remains are resting at the McCall Funeral Home on Johnson Street. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Interesting Style News—End of February Home-furnishings Sale

And Adjustment of Stocks—For Thursday and Friday

Spring Millinery Opening

Thursday, Friday and Saturday

In the spring, millinery turns to brims, color and brilliance.

Femininity wins its case. Smart women will again wear brims, for spring frocks are the kind that demand them, and while they may be irregular brims that drape, flute, roll, ripple or turn up in front, they are the most important part of the feminine revival.

It will be, decidedly, a Straw Hat season, the favorite straws being of local weaves, such as baku, sisols, crocheted lace, straws, etc. The most popular shades are green, ranging from the light melon shades to the darker Corinthian greens; blue tones from light turquoise to San Marco and navy, and black in lacquered or lacy light-weight straws.

A complete showing of Southern and Eastern models awaits your choice. Creations that bespeak individuality.

The Catalina Hats, for which we are sole agents in Victoria, are all more charming and flattering than ever before, and the colors are carefully selected.

JOHN BUCHAN

Dorothy Dix

Why Can't Parents Realize That It Is Their Own Fault When Their Children Don't Confide in Them? Why Can't They Be Friends, Instead of Conscientious Objectors to Everything Their Children Want to Do?

ARE YOU on speaking terms with your children? Most people aren't. Of course you say plenty to your children, but isn't what you say to them a lecture or a reproof or an order or advice? Do you ever sit down and just have a pleasant talk with your children as you would with a friend about the weather or Babe Ruth's batting average or what Lindbergh is doing or whether skirts are going to be long or short next season?

When you come to think of it, aren't you on about as chummy terms with the Prince of Wales or Mussolini as you are with your own Johnny and Mamie, and when you are thrown on each other's society for about an hour or two don't you find that you are both embarrassed and tongue-tied and that you have as little to say to each other as if you were strangers who were meeting for the first time?

Not long ago a middle-aged man said to me that he felt that he had missed so much in never having got acquainted with his father. "All my life," he said, "people have been telling me what a brilliant man my father was, and what a fascinating conversationalist, and what a scintillating wit he had, and what charm of manner he possessed, and what a delightful companion he was, but I was never privileged to glimpse this side of his character, though I should have sat at the feet of that kind of man and worshipped him."

"But the father I knew was a stern, autocratic man who never spoke to his children except to correct them or find fault with them, and of whom we stood in such deadly fear and awe that our one fixed idea was to keep quiet in his presence and call his attention to ourselves as little as possible. I do not remember ever having addressed a remark to him except when it was absolutely necessary to ask him for something or to try to defend myself when I had done something of which he disapproved."

"And when I was grown and no longer afraid of him, the habit of constraint between us was too strong to be broken. I still felt ill at ease in his presence, and I couldn't have opened up my heart to him and told him what I was really thinking and feeling and hoping and planning to save my life. He lived and died without our ever having a real conversation, and I have often wondered if he would have liked to know me as much as I would have liked to know him."

Millions of other men and women have had the same experience. Millions of children are going through it right now, and I often think what a wonderful thing it would be if parents could cease being parents to their youngsters about the time they are 3 or 4 years old, and thereafter be Friend Father and Friend Mother.

For both parents and children miss so much, not only in happiness, but in effectiveness and helpfulness, when they can't talk things over together like good pals, and get at each other's point of view. But this is an impossibility if no mutual ground of understanding on which they can meet has ever been established between them.

The exceedingly bitter wall that goes up continually from parents is that their children do not confide in them, and that Johnny and Mary never tell them where they are going, or what they are going to do or ask their advice, or discuss their plans and ambitions with them. And parents never realize that the fault is their own and that they themselves have made it impossible to talk freely to them.

For in Johnny and Mary's consciousness father and mother are simply incarnate don'ts. Father and mother have always been conscientious objectors who had a good reason for their children not doing anything they wanted to do, who wet-blanketed every aspiration and threw cold water on every scheme. They can hardly remember either father or mother addressing a remark to them that didn't begin: "Don't do this." "Don't do that." Or: "Do so and so," and that wasn't surcharged with reproof and admonition.

Of course this ceaseless correcting and advice on the parents' part is the result of their desire to guide their children along the straight and narrow road. They are doing it for their children's good, but it defeats its own object, for children, no less than grown people, do not cultivate the society of those who keep them reminded of their shortcomings. Nor do any of us voluntarily confide our plans to those who, we know before-hand, will veto them.

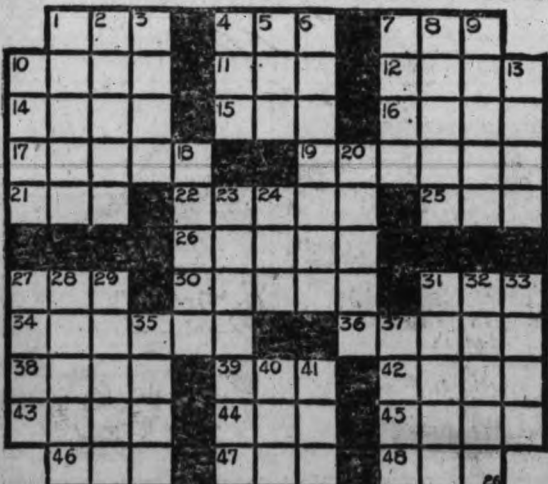

Nobody will deny that parenthood is a hard job and generally a thankless one, but it need not be this if fathers and mothers would only establish a comradeship with their children while they are still in the cradle.

But this can't be done by continual nagging and faultfinding.

To make friends of little Johnny and Mary you have to handle them as diplomatically, and be as suave, and make yourself as interesting a companion as you would with any other stranger with whom you desired to ingratiate yourself. In commercial phrases you have to "sell" yourself to your children, but if you do you have established the most beautiful and satisfactory relationship on earth.

So I say: Parents, get acquainted with your children. Believe me, they are well worth knowing.

WE subjected the new Valet blade to the hardest trial possible. We asked metallurgists in leading research laboratories to give it every conceivable test—scientific and shaving. The Valet blade proved its superiority in every instance. Assigned statement from one famous laboratory reads: "We tested the steel and shaved with the blade—that's why 8 out of our 10 research men use the new Valet". In laboratory after laboratory the result is always the same—men who know steel prefer the triple-hardened Valet blade!

Dermatologists—the skin specialists who know faces—prescribe the Valet for the correction of skin conditions caused by inferior blades and improper shaving. The scientifically adjusted Valet AutoStrop Razor holds the micro-edge Valet blade at a friendly angle. It glides across your face lightly, smoothly. You shave with perfect comfort.

Every Valet shave is quick, easy and kind to your face. Remember the Valet blade is made exclusively for the Valet AutoStrop Razor—the only razor that sharpens, shaves and cleans without removing the blade. Try the new Valet tomorrow morning. Get real shaving comfort and convenience.

MEDICAL LIBERTY LEAGUE

To the Editor:—No better league could possibly have been formed than the Medical Liberty League. It proves that at least two people are waking up to the realization of the vivid fact that their bodies are "the temple of their souls," and that their souls belong to them and their Maker only.

It is interesting also to note that while certain members in the House are trying to hold them from the right to own their "bodies" they are also forgetting the fact that our Saviour Himself cured people by the mere laying on of hands. Now, while the chiropractors, etc., who use their hands, and who, with others, are termed the "druggists' healers," have been interfered with by the government, it would be interesting to know why the Christian Science practitioners are not molested. They also take fees for their services, as the "druggists' healers" do.

I have nothing against Christian Science, but thought the fact was worth considering.

CIVIL SERVANTS' SALARIES

To the Editor:—I am enclosing a copy of a letter from the national president and secretary of the Amalgamated Civil Servants of Canada, addressed to Mr. D. B. Plunkett, M.P., House of Commons, Ottawa, and would appreciate your publication of same.

D. B. Plunkett, Esq., M.P.,
House of Commons,
Ottawa, Ont.

Dear Sir:—

During the 1929 session of the House of Commons a series of communications were issued to all members of the Federal Parliament by this organization, dealing with the question of the salary question as it affects the employees of the Dominion Civil Service a minimum salary of not less than $100.00 per month.

As a result of this campaign in quest of this objective, some very enlightening statistics were revealed, and newspaper comment from one end of the country to the other was in nearly every instance favorable towards our plea. You are well aware that no legislation granting the minimum salary mentioned has, as yet, been promulgated, and so we propose to continue our campaign in the interests of those civil servants who are trying to exist on less than $100.00 per annum.

A return tabled in the House of Commons on April 24, 1929, showed that there were no less than 3,779 full-time adult male civil servants receiving salaries lower than $100.00 per annum.

According to two other returns that were brought to our notice, it was stated that there were approximately 40,000 civil servants in the employ of the Dominion government during 1928. So, bearing in mind the above two sets of statistics, one arrives at the conclusion that a little over nine per cent of the Federal Civil Service full-time adult male employees who are in receipt of salaries below $100.00 per month!

As one newspaper editorially stated on April 9, 1929: "The question of salaries in the service is an important one for the whole country. Government and go, but the greater part of the actual work of running the public service is done by the permanent (and, we might add, also the temporary) staff. The efficiency of the government is a matter of moment to every citizen. To underpay employees is certainly not the way to secure diligent and faithful work from them. The government could succeed in that respect without making a noticeable dent in the revenue surpluses of the finance department."

We ask for your whole-hearted support in our efforts to obtain something approaching a living wage for these deserving employees, and we propose to submit, as in the past, periodical letters dealing with this and other phases of the salary question as it affects the Civil Service of Canada.

HAROLD BAKER,
National President,
FRED KNOWLES,
National Secretary.

THE HIGHWAY ACT

To the Editor:—It is the common report that the Highway Act is in the interests of large transportation companies, and with the ultimate object of granting to them a monopoly of the highway business in the Dominion.

We should never forget the Latin motto: "Salus populi suprema est lex." (The welfare of the people is the supreme law.)

If we have no power, much less a government, that can take away the liberty of the subject, which this proceeding in the Legislature seeks to do, it is permitted to be passed, will stand out as a glaring example of the rights of the people and a menace to individual enterprise.

If these transportation companies want to go ahead in common with others, but without subsidy or franchise, without fear of competition, let them come in on the same footing as the small man owning and driving a single stage car which has given transportation to his customers, and on whose car insurance has been paid according to the act, for protection of passengers, the same as the large cars.

If the government will attempt to grant a monopoly or franchise to large corporations it is going beyond its powers in taking away these smaller stage drivers' and operators' livelihood, or robbing them of their business; a conspiracy of the worst kind against the rights and liberty of the subject.

Members of the Legislature are elected to see that the interests and rights of each citizen of the province are respected and guaranteed, and to discountenance and prevent monopolies arising and gaining a footing here by the maintenance of such citizens. If the members of the government are so blatantly and blindly give away what they have no right to, they seek condemnation as personal parties to the measure, and unworthy of the people's confidence, are inviting a body with more correct views of equity to take over office, and the quickest of them for all concerned in seeing right vindicated.

The present members must see the iniquity as no doubt the quickly would if such proposed violation of right touched their status and livelihood adversely, of killing competition from the little man in business, instead of helping the individual in every possible way in the desire to encourage good business.

Why should big corporations think they should have franchises? On the other side of the line (U.S.A.) the curse is apparent. If it be the small people, but they have not desired monopoly, protected by act against fundamental law.

Let competition be the incentive. Hitherto the service given has been open to competition, and at the present time is satisfactory to the traveling public. Judging from the way the individual stages are patronized. Each of these can make a living and continue to give good and prompt service if left alone and not driven out of the road and deprived of their business and livelihood by an unjust monopoly given in a government franchise.

I write without prejudice, in the hope that this measure before the House may be ventilated and discussed by able thinkers, to prevent such an outrage becoming law, even pro tempore.

We know the snake can change its skin, and does so, but the poison always remains, however fascinating and alluring it may appear.

Seeing exclusive franchise is an insult to one's understanding, and the government should not be a party to such deprivation of the people's rights.

VOX POPULI.

THOSE DRUGLESS HEALERS

To the Editor:—Having noticed in the press that the Medical Association are appearing before the committee in the Legislature demanding that the application of these so-called drugless healers for a license to continue their practices in this Province be denied, and that the sole right to the privilege of treating illness of human beings become the property of the Medical Association, I have a few remarks I am desirous of making if I might be granted sufficient valuable space in your paper.

Would it not be better if the Medical Association would honestly investigate the merits of these healers, and that these drugless healers are practicing with, and adopt into their own profession any that has merit, and by so doing they, the healers, would find a little practice left with them that their doors would soon close without legislation? I make this suggestion because there must be some merit in their treatments; otherwise patients would not be so anxious to spend their money unless they at least thought they were getting something for it, and if they could get the same treatment with the medical men, why would they leave?

If I might be pardoned for a personal reference, I would like to recite my own experience, and I think I

TOBY LEITCH IN "RUSTIC" ROLE AT VARIETY THEATRE

Raymond Toby Leitch scores great success at the Variety Theatre in the dramatic play, "Gerry." Cast in a typical "rustic" part, the Variety star is a riot of fun. In his policeman of the city of Lisbon, Toby gives a hilariously misanthropic performance.

The plot commences with a most unusual situation, Gerald Brandon have had some that has a direct bearing on the point at issue.

For over eighteen years my wife has suffered from a chronic attack of arthritis, and although I have spent several thousands of dollars going from one medical office to another on a portion of this continent, the best advice I have ever been able to get was that frankly nothing could be done for this form of disease. I carried this on for ten or twelve years before I finally gave up and started to look for help outside of their profession, but not until she became hopelessly crippled. This search finally I am pleased to say, in my being able to get such relief that the disease has been permanently corrected and we have no longer any further cause of our continued suffering.

But before this was accomplished she had arrived at a stage where she could no longer walk, and has not done so for some three years now. Since that time I have been getting certain treatments for her from one of these drugless healers, and again I am pleased to say they have been of immense benefit, and are hopeful of a complete recovery as far as being able to walk again is concerned.

But along comes this monster organization known as the Medical Association demanding that these treatments must cease and we must return to them and get from them what they have not got to give, and the only alternative is to go home and remain a permanent invalid until death itself mercifully gives relief.

But what right have they or anyone else to condemn one of their fellow creatures to an invalid chair and not only take no relief to them, but even refuse to let anyone else do so? They are human beings, and if they are medical wrecks, is there no longer any human sympathy in this once honored profession? Those who have the care of such invalids are the creatures to let an invalid chair and not only take no relief to them, but even refuse to let anyone else do so?
